JUDGING by the story opposite we have some students we can be especially proud of at Lymm High School.

To see four having offers at the second best fashion university in the world is a fantastic achievement and I would like to wish them all well on their future journeys.

Add to this the fact Lymm High School is now back at the top of the local school league tables with a Sixth Form with A level results in the top 10 per cent of performers in the whole country - we certainly have an educational facility at the heart of the community we can be proud of - a much brighter picture than few years ago.

Congratulations to all those involved who I know face some difficult times ahead with proposed government spending plans.

A new funding formula, set to be introduced from April next year, will see Warrington's schools lose almost a quarter of a million pounds a year and the borough become one of the worst-funded in the country.

If the proposals go ahead, only nine of England's 150 authorities will receive less than Warrington.

This surely can't be fair or right for a town the size of Warrington with city ambitions.

I would urge our MP David Mowat to do everything within his power to ensure Warrington gets its fair share of funding.

Fashion students creating history

FOUR Lymm High School Sixth Form students are creating history after receiving offers from the prestigious London College of Fashion - ranked as the second best fashion university in the world!

The successful applicants are Ellie Turner, Hattie Lofthouse and Alfie Chambers who applied to study Fashion Design Development, with Izzy Barnes being offered a place on the Fashion Contour degree course.

Currently ranked as the second best fashion university in the world, it is an amazing achievement for the school to have so many students securing offers after their interviews.

Making history

The four aspiring fashion designers are making history, being the first from the school to be offered places at the esteemed university after staying on to study the BTEC Level 3 Fashion and Clothing course. The course was added to the post-16 curriculum offer in 2014 after noticing a lack of provision for the subject within the North West.

Applicants were initially requested to upload digital portfolios to showcase their design ideas. This led to the four being shortlisted to attend a formal interview for which they had to provide a second, more extensive portfolio of their work.

Throughout the application process students were supported by the school's Art staff, acting as referees and mentors with specific support provided by Miss Doherty, Head of the Technology & Art Faculty.

Miss Doherty said: "I am immensely proud of them all. They have shown an exceptional commitment to their studies and we are so proud to see them being rewarded for their hard work and preparation. In the fashion industry, most aspire to gain a place at the UAL and to have four applicants receiving offers underlines the quality of our programme of support."

The four are now focusing their attention on their final projects, creating a 10 piece fashion collection for the school's upcoming fashion show which takes place on Wednesday, May 3.

Headteacher, Gwyn Williams, added: "Huge credit must go to the students involved, as well as to their teachers; this is an extraordinary achievement and we are delighted for everybody involved."

Lymm Retrievers go from strength to strength

LOCAL dog walkers group "Lymm Retrievers" is going from strength to strength.

They now have a regular attendance of around 10 golden retrievers. They meet at Spud Wood at around 11.00 a.m. on the second Saturday of each month. All retriever owners are welcome – just turn up on the day for a fun walk and a nice chat.

Their next meeting will be on Saturday, April 8 when they hope to see as many goldies as possible!

New handrail at war memorial

AFTER two years of lobbying a new handrail is now in place at the Lymm War memorial at St Mary's Parish Church which will make it far safer for people attending Remembrance Sunday.

Local councillors Kath Buckley and Sheila Woodyatt have been working closely with the Parochial Church Council and are delighted to see it is now in place.

Meanwhile both councillors are also campaigning for an extension to the Dam car park on Crouchley Lane to try and prevent dangerous parking in the area which is a real nuisance for local residents.

Lymm Festival line-up to include Terry Waite

THE line-up for this year's Lymm Festival has been announced and promises something for everyone including a talk by former hostage Terry Waite who grew up in the area.

Running from Thursday June 22 to Sunday, July 2, the festival will be packed with music, comedy, arts, spoken word, outdoor events and plenty for children and families.

Headlining the programme is Gyles Brandreth, broadcaster and author, who will be presenting his one-man show and the comedy continues with stand-up comedian Alex Boardman at Festival Comedy Night. Local-born humanitarian and author Terry Waite will be talking about his new book and there will be poems, storytelling and more.

The ever-popular LymmFest on Saturday, June 24 features music at four venues around the village all for one wristband entry. There will be blues, rock, folk and indie on offer so make sure that you take in some of each during the evening. There will also be some Popular Opera featuring baritone Jacob Phillips and lots more choral and orchestral music throughout the eleven day Festival period.

The Festival opens, as usual, with the FoodFest and Street Fun right in the heart of the village on Thursday, June 22 – and let's hope that the weather is better than last year! Other favourites include a family garden party at Lymm Hall, Historic Transport Day, Open Gardens and Lymm Artists' Exhibition.

There are some new events as well. Lymm Oughtrington Park Cricket Club is the venue for "Murder on the Terrace", an open-air "whodunnit?" and there will be a children's fun day with workshops and storytelling. Plus an adult author event and a children's author event and workshop and..... and.....the list goes on and on!

Full details will be appearing over the coming weeks on the Festival website at lymmfestival.org.uk as well as on Facebook and Twitter – search @LymmFestival. Sign up for the newsletter at the website and you will be among the first to hear about all the events and details of when tickets will be going on sale.

Transport Day set to leave giant footprints

THE team behind Lymm Historic Transport Day have been busily working away behind the scenes over the Winter to come up with a show that will live up to the event's reputation as one of the most popular transport events in the region.

"it's not easy to find something fresh every year" Field Manager John Parry said: "But we think we have come up trumps this year. After an absence of 250 million years we are bringing back the Lymm dinosaur in the shape of a 17 foot long semi-animatronic creature that will roam the May Queen field. In between times kids will also be able to interact with freshly hatched baby triceratops."

But it will still be transport, transport and more transport on the rest of the field from a one-day only narrow gauge railway steaming out of a recreated Lymm station to a return visit from the hugely popular Spitfire plane. There will even be the chance for kids to try their hand as a digger-driver as well as visiting LEGO and model-railway exhibitions.

This year's patron and special guest will also be making a bee-line for the canal. Liz McIvor will be known to BBC viewers as the presenter of series on both canal and railway history and is looking forward to meeting up with some of the thousands of exhibitors and visitors who transform Lymm into THE Transport Village for one day a year.

As always the event will rely on an army of volunteers to make it all work and they are recruiting now at lymmtransport.org.uk, transportday2017@gmail.com or call Trish Cockayne on 751646.

Lymm Life will be bringing you more news of this and other festival events over the next couple of months. But do make a special note that Transport Day will be on June 25th. That is the first Sunday of the Festival rather than the last day as it has been for the last three years.

Win

a Fantastic Weekend of Fitness and Relaxation for 2 people

TO celebrate the launch of an exciting new joint venture between Cheshire Natural Health and Walkfit Cheshire, we are offering a lucky reader the chance to win a Weekend Health and Fitness Retreat for 2 (worth £550) at a luxury country house on Anglesey on 9th – 11th June 2017.

Combining their expertise in the health and fitness industry, Tracey Turton, Director of Cheshire Natural Health, and Kerry King, Director of Walkfit Cheshire, are now offering luxury Weekend Retreats where you can relax and have fun in the company of a small group of like-minded people.

You and your guest will stay in a luxury twin room in a stunning spacious private house in the beautiful village of Rhosneigr. During the weekend you will enjoy 3 invigorating Nordic Walking sessions with Kerry King from Walkfit Cheshire – 2 beach/coastal walks and one through the magical Newborough forest and on to the stunning Blessed Island.

Nordic Walking is a specific fitness technique and is not to be confused with trekking or hill walking, as the poles are not planted in front of the walker, but in a specific way that increases the use of the upper body. The benefits of Nordic Walking are that it burns nearly twice as many calories as ordinary walking, and the use of the poles reduces the strain on knees and joints. It is an all-over body workout as over 90% of the body's major muscles are used.

You will also enjoy informative workshops on Holistic Living and Stress Management, and talks and demonstrations on Raw Food and Juicing. In addition, you can take part in Yoga and Mindfulness Meditation sessions. For a small extra charge you can treat yourself to relaxing Reflexology or Massage treatments, with experienced therapists from Cheshire Natural Health. All meals are included and are freshly prepared using delicious nutritious ingredients.

There are 2 weekend retreats planned for 2017, 9th – 11th June and 15th – 17th September. Each will be themed around the seasons.

To enter simply email info@cheshirenaturalhealth.co.uk with your answer to the following question:

Where are the weekend retreats held?

- A) Isle of Man or
- B) Isle of Anglesey

The draw will take place on 10th April and the winner will be notified by email. For further details visit www.cheshirenaturalhealth.co.uk or call 01925 730123.

Continued success sees Harrington Robertson Ltd expand into new premises

DUE to expansion Harrington Robertson Ltd has moved to larger premises while retaining their links with Lymm.

Established in 2009 by Directors; Keith Robertson and Andrew Harrington and based locally in Lymm since 2010, the company has moved to new larger premises in Asher House on Barsbank Lane.

Since launching they have experienced great success offering Local Independent Advice on; Investments, Pensions, Tax Planning, Inheritance Tax (Estate Planning), Business Advice, Protection. They currently look after investments and pensions circa £45 million.

They are proud of their links with Lymm and were keen to retain their links with the village when choosing new premises. They are a local business of highly committed and fully independent financial advisers who passionately believe in a principled approach to both customer service and financial solutions.

They place great pride in removing conflicts of interest between their clients and themselves, and have designed a service proposition that aligns their clients' success to their own success.

The Financial Services industry has experienced the most significant changes for more than 25 years in recent times.

Harrington Robertson Ltd both welcome and embrace these changes, both from an ethical and professional perspective. Ensuring that no conflicts of interest exists between themselves and their clients is at the centre of their approach. IFA's should work for their clients, and not the product providers. Helping their clients understand not just what steps they need to take, but why is absolutely key. That's why they spend so much time with their clients in order to raise their level of understanding. Informed clients are far more likely to achieve their goals.

"Quite simply, we would not succeed without building strong long term relationships and that's why at Harrington Robertson Ltd, clients will always receive a very warm welcome, regular reviews, and learn to understand the principles which have served investors well for many generations. We develop relationships with our clients and work in partnership with them throughout the various stages of their lives. We do not treat you like a customer where you are sold a product without any ongoing service," said Keith.

"We always offer an initial meeting without cost or obligation and any subsequent work is undertaken at a pre-agreed and transparent cost.

"Additionally we regularly work in teamwork with clients' accountants or legal advisors to provide a comprehensive and seamless financial solution.

Andrew added: "Such success is born from the fact that we are passionate about what we do, and we actively encourage long term relationships with our clients. We our building our reputation solely on the recommendation of those that experience us at first hand.

"In preparing for the future , and by embracing market leading technology Harrington Robertson

Ltd can apply the foundations to which our business is based;

"Traditional Values – Forward Thinking."

"Being human, we know that everyone's needs are individual, but if you take your finances as seriously as we do, we can guarantee you a very warm welcome.

22 pupils offered Oxbridge places

PUPILS at The Manchester Grammar School (MGS) have, once again, been highly successful in securing coveted offers from the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge.

This year, 22 pupils received offers from Oxford and Cambridge, placing MGS in a very select group of top academic schools nationally.

Pupils received offers to study a very wide range of courses, including Medicine, Modern Languages, Engineering, History, Science and Mathematics.

This year's offers continue a strong tradition of university success for MGS pupils. Some 100 Old Mancunians are currently studying at Oxford and Cambridge, and the school has an outstanding record of success in medicine: 27 pupils went to medical school last year and similar numbers are expected this year.

The High Master, Dr Martin Boulton, said: "I am very proud of the achievements of our boys, and delighted that their talent and dedication have been recognised with these offers from Oxford and Cambridge.

"Competition for places at the country's leading universities has never been greater, and I am delighted to see our pupils' hard work rewarded. I wish them every success with their examinations later this year."

Lymm Big Sing open to all for festival performance

Picture: Gerhard Richter

If you would like to be part of the performance at this year's Lymm Festival rather than just in the audience then now is the time to act.

Lymm Big Sing – now in its fifth year – will be starting rehearsals soon for a performance as part of Lymm Festival on Tuesday June 28 at the Statham Lodge.

The choir's special guest this year will be top male singer/ pianist Ian Shaw – who has been twice named BBC Jazz singer of the year. It promises yet again to be a sell-out festival highlight.

Lymm Big Sing is open to all – no audition – and will be starting regular Monday evening rehearsals at the end of this month. The choir is led by Susan Healey with her husband Michael in the role of musical director. But they are not the only members of a hugely talented musical family to be involved. Daughter and singer Helen, who now lives in Spain, is returning specially to be part of the evening while Helen's son Josh who is in the final year of a music degree at Birmingham will be in the backing band along with Hugh Banton of the prog-rock band Van der Graaf Generator.

This year Big Sing's segment will feature Lennon and McCartney and other UK greats as well as a reprise of a couple of numbers from the Sting musical "Last Ship" that were hugely popular when the choir performed them two years ago.

Newcomers are welcome to come along for the first evening at no cost just to find out what it all about. No need to be able to read music, as long as you can listen to a CD! Contact Tina Watmough on 07734 333525, email lymbbigsing@gmail.com or look at the website lymbbigsing.co.uk

Former pupil supports Cherry Tree School

LOCAL flooring businessman and ex pupil of Cherry Tree Primary School Alistair Noone went back to his former school to carry out a good deed – by fitting a free carpet in the school library

Alastair said: "We are passionate about giving our customers the most stylish and affordable floor coverings from carpets, hardwood floors, vinyl to rugs.

"We're a family business, so expect a warm and friendly welcome plus our years of experience means you'll get expert advice, from design to installation and aftercare.

"In our showroom we have a huge range of quality flooring. Some customers know exactly what they want and others come to us for inspiration and ideas. We're always happy to help and enjoy the fact every job is different. One day we could be working in someone's home and the next an office, school or hospital.

Alastair was a pupil at The Cherry Tree Primary School in Lymm from 1985 – 1989 and has very fond memories of his school days.

He has worked for The Cherry Tree Primary School a couple of times. The school got in touch recently to replace the flooring in two classrooms and the library.

Alastair met with Head Teacher Helen Graham to discuss the schools requirements and provided a quote. Helen got in touch to give the go ahead on the classrooms but due to cuts in government funding advised they would not be able to afford to do the library as well.

With the project and school close to his heart Alastair decided to do the flooring in the library free of charge.

The work was completed during the February half term.

Family business Hale Carpets and Flooring was established in 1979 by Alan Noone and Alistair and his wife Caroline took over the business in 2013 following his father's retirement.

The flooring shop was originally based in Hale village, Altrincham but bigger premises were needed for a growing business as Alistair decided to expand into commercial flooring as well as domestic.

Their new showroom is based off Lymm Road in Thelwall.

Meditative music for Lent

LYMM favourites the Alteri Chamber Choir are to perform a concert entitled "The Threshold of Light" at St Margaret's Church, Dunham, on March 18 at 7.30.

The choir – who have made appearances at the Lymm Festival – will be accompanied by members of the Chester Viol Academy - the viol being an early precursor of the violin class of instrument.

The concert is described as a programme of meditative music for Lent.

Local singers raise £300 for Macmillan Cancer Support

DID you see these ladies last Dickensian Day?

They are Serenade (Serenade-Lymm.com) who were dressed in Dickensian Day outfits and singing carols in 4-part acapella around Lymm that Saturday afternoon and with the support of The Wine Kitchen and visitors to Lymm village, raised a magnificent £300 for Macmillan cancer support.

Vaudeville show returns to Lymm Rugby Club

The Lymm Panto cast is delighted to return to Lymm Rugby Club's summer marquee for the third spectacular Vaudeville Show on Friday 16 June 2017 – a night full of laughter, song and dance!

'Last year's Vaudeville Show proved hugely popular, selling out and creating such a buzz,' commented producer Simon Plumb. 'How could the Lymm Panto troupe not be tempted to perform an encore?'

'We are busy writing new comedy sketches and choreographing stunning dance routines, but keeping to the vaudevillian spirit of variety and saucy humour,' added Simon. 'The plan is to make this show the best yet!'

All proceed will go to the Lymm Rugby Club Clubhouse Appeal, for which full planning approval has been given.

Tickets at £20 each are available from fiona@spa-group.co.uk or call 01925 755590.

Also available at The Terrace Café, Lymm and from behind the bar at Lymm Rugby Club

School extension approved

PLANS for a new, single-storey extension to the front of Lymm's Statham Primary School have been given the green light by borough planning chiefs.

The project will provide a secure entrance and improved administrative facilities and additional car park, along with the removal of an existing, dis-used water tower.

There will be no increase in staffing, nor the number of pupils, but the car parking will increase from 14 to 17. Vehicle access to the site will remain unchanged.

The scheme will require the removal of one, poor quality tree and a section of hedgerow but it is not anticipated that the overall scheme will have any detrimental effect on nearby houses.

Obituary

Hilda Hatcher

THE funeral has taken place of Hilda Hatcher, nee Hallows, aged 88, of Woodlands Avenue, Lymm, who died on January 30.

Hilda was born in Leigh Street, Lymm in 1928, the youngest child of May and Arthur Hallows.

She attended Pepper Street School and then worked at Woolworth's for 10 years, leaving on the arrival of her family. She was married to Dennis for 65 years and he pre-deceased her by only 16 months.

Hilda was a Lymm Grey and is survived by her three daughters, Linda, Denise and Elaine, her six grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

Donations were in aid of Lymm Heritage Centre.

Funeral arrangements were by John Burrows and Sons, of Lymm.

Joseph John Mason

THE funeral has taken place of Joseph John Mason, aged 90, of Barsbank Close, Lymm, who died in Callands Care Home on January 22.

John was a keen photographer and artist and had a love of the Bridgewater Canal where he spent many a time on his boat, with his dog, Bob.

Funeral arrangements were by John Burrows and Sons of Lymm.
