FOR the first time in the history of the event Lymm May Queen Festival had to be cancelled due to the weather.

While hugely disappointing for many, from what I could see first hand, the organising committee had little choice but to make the tough call as the May Queen field was a quagmire, especially at the entrance.

To have continued would have created health and safety issues as well as serious damage to the field, which will be required shortly for the Lymm Historic Transport Day.

Let's hope it has dried out by then!

Meanwhile, hopefully by the time you read this a decision will have been made over the future of this year's May Queen event, which could feature at one of the up and coming Lymm Festival events.

An emergency meeting of the organising committee was taking place as Lymm Life went to press.

They had already been approached by the Lymm Festival committee, suggesting a few options for including the May Queen crowning as part of one of the events.

Thanks to the power of social media and the warrington-worldwide website we were able to quickly to alert the community about the cancellation.

We reached literally thousands of people within a couple of hours.

What we found disappointing was some of the criticism the organising committee had to endure for taking the tough decision.

These people are all volunteers with the interests of the community at heart - and don't deserve criticism over a situation they have no control over regarding the weather.

I am sure they would love to hear from any willing volunteers who feel they could do better!

Round Table gives away £25,000 to good causes

MEMBERS of Lymm and District Round Table are full of charitable cheer after donating £25,000 to local causes over the past 12 months.

The huge total was raised from the proceeds of the Round Table's three main events – the Easter Duck Race, Big Lymm Bonfire and Lymm Beer Fest.

Outgoing chairman Ian Newhouse said: "Lymm and District Round Table goes from strength to strength – not only are we raising tens of thousands of pounds for charity each year we also have a record number of members.

"We are also extremely grateful to the local businesses and members of the public who support our events. Without them we wouldn't be able to make a difference to the individuals and groups that request our help."

The causes to have benefited from the Round Table's donations include The Christie, 3rd Lymm Scouts, Stockdales, North West Air Ambulance, Maggies, NSPKU and the Lymm Community Orchard.

Starlight Ladies Walk a family affair for the 'Instone Gals'

TRAINING is well underway for the "Instone Gals" as women from all over Warrington prepare for St. Rocco's annual Starlight Ladies Walk.

Lymm is no exception where the 'Instone Gals', as their family team is known, are already making the most of the lighter evenings to get out and about and start to clock up the miles for the event on midnight on Saturday June 24.

Mum Deb and three daughters Charlotte, Gabs and Sophie, are putting their best feet forward in memory of Deb's mum and the girls' grandma Joyce, who was cared for at St. Rocco's during the last weeks of her life.

Gabs, who is training to be a nurse, said: "We lost an incredibly kind-hearted lady to Adrenal Cancer four years ago. Our beloved Grandma had lots of time for people and taught us so much. She's greatly missed but her life lessons and generosity are things we will always remember."

This generosity has clearly rubbed off on the girls, who are walking to raise much needed funds to support patient care at St.

Rocco's.

Gabs continued: "We wanted to say thank you to St. Rocco's for all the hard work and support of the staff when caring for my Grandma. I'm about to qualify as a nurse and my training has really helped me to appreciate everything they do. My older sister, Charlotte is based in London but we're sure she's training hard there too!"

The family decided that the best way to say thank you was to sign up for the Starlight Ladies Walk and raise as much as possible to support patient care, especially given that, as a charity, St. Rocco's relies on over two thirds of its funding being generated by the local community.

You can sponsor the 'Instone Gals' at www.justgiving.com/fundraising/instones or, for a great night out with the girls, sign up for Starlight at www.starlightladieswalk.co.uk.

"I have a critical eye with an attention to detail. I have been very impressed by BPS Family Law across the board. This begins from the cleanliness of the well situated premises, the polite, friendly, welcome and the smartness of all concerned. This is a particularly difficult time for me. The availability even out of the already long hours, reassurance, understanding, explanations, guidance and billing flexibility have been outstanding; whilst still not departing from reality. I cannot imagine a better service. Caroline is an exceptional individual with an excellent grasp of her subject but not afraid to ask for technical help from other professionals if something is outside of her field. That said, it would need to be non-legal! She is an assiduous player and clearly experienced and confident in the advice she gives and the explanations she provides. Her technical knowledge and execution are inspiring, reassuring and exemplary. Her commercial awareness reflects her years of experience."

The Park Royal has launched its annual search Warrington's best wedding photos, as the QHotels Wedding Photo Awards opens for entries on Facebook and Instagram.

After receiving over 2,500 entries and votes in the first Wedding Photo Awards last year, The Park Royal is now calling for entries to the 2017 competition, which will celebrate the memorable moments captured at weddings, from the funny to the romantic.

Anyone in the UK can submit a photo - whether an experienced photographer or a guest at a wedding - by posting it on QHotels' Facebook or Instagram page using the hashtag #WeddingPhotoAwards, along with the name of the category they wish to enter.

The winner of each category will receive a one-night QHotels break for two with dinner.

- Best 'first look' photo
- Funniest wedding photo
- Best 'perfect kiss' photo
- Best 'first dance' photo
- Best 'themed wedding' photo

Entries will close on 3rd July when QHotels' expert wedding panel will announce the shortlist for each category, before going to a public vote on social media to decide the winner.

Annie Brown, General Manager at The Park Royal launched the awards, saying: "We received some fantastic entries from the people of Warrington into last year's competition, from stunning black and white photography, to comically-staged group photographs and photo-bombed selfies."

"We're expecting to see even more creative shots entered into the 2017 awards, as brides and grooms-to-be take their inspiration from social media channels, such as Instagram and Pinterest. We can't wait to see more wonderful and unique photos!"

For more information about The Park Royal's Wedding Photo Awards and how to enter, please visit: QHotels.co.uk/weddings/WeddingPhotoAwards, Facebook.com/QHotels or @QHotelsgroup on Instagram.

Celebrating a 95th birthday

ITEMS made by members of the craft group were on show at the monthly meeting of Heatley WI - and included items to celebrate the 95th birthday of member Gladys Taylor.

These were a magnificent bag made by Margaret Earp and two intricate birthday cards made by Doris Ralph and Elaine Keaveney

The meeting was told the walk in April was well attended and followed by a lunch in Lymm which was much enjoyed.

A discussion then followed regarding national resolutions and voting. President Margaret Sharp urged members to discuss both resolutions fully. The motion "Alleviating Loneliness" was carried unanimously. The second resolution "Plastic Soup - keep micro plastic fibres out of our oceans" was debated and the majority voted for the motion to go forward.

Guest speaker was Hazel Crampton, development officer at Cheshire Safety Central. She is part of a new team at the new Cheshire Fire and Rescue Centre, Lymm. This is an operational fire station and educational centre encompassing fire prevention and accident prevention, including motorway accidents.

The WI's emergency evacuation procedure was then put to the test when the fire alarm was activated and the drill proceeded in an orderly and timely manner. After a head count, members returned to the hall. Hazel then invited members, as a group, to visit the new station and education centre in the near future.

Imogen elected to UK Youth Parliament

LYMM High School student Imogen Walsh has become the member of UK Youth Parliament for Cheshire.

The Year 10 student won an election for one of 300 seats, which she will hold for the next two years.

Gwyn Williams, Headteacher at Lymm High School said: 'We are very proud of Imogen's well deserved election to the UK Youth Parliament – she will be an excellent, democratic representative for her peers, and will be tenaciously determined – she is a great ambassador for young people and embodies the ethos of Lymm High School perfectly. We wish her luck and she has the full support of our school community.'

Run by young people, the Youth Parliament provides opportunities for 11-18 year olds to use their voice in creative ways to bring about social change.

Every year the parliament chooses a national campaign and for 2017 candidates campaigned for better transport, the living wage and better opportunities for young people.

Mental health was also chosen as a priority campaign for England.

As the areas Member of the Youth Parliament, Imogen will now be responsible for rolling out her program and representing the youth in her area.

She hopes young people in Warrington can have a say on issues directly affecting them such as environmentally friendly public transport and the promotion of mental health services, especially support in schools.

She has also called for greater increase of school funding in Warrington.

With a new funding formula set to be introduced from April next year, Warrington's schools face losing almost a quarter of a million pounds a year and the borough to become one of the worst-funded in the country.

Talking about the results Imogen said: "I am really pleased to have won and want to thank everyone for their support. The school funding proposals by the government are completely unfair for schools in Warrington.

"Young people of Warrington work really hard whilst at school and deserve the same opportunities as other young people in the country"

The Year 10 Student said: "I now feel I can give young people a voice to ensure the views of young people in Warrington are listened to by decision makers."

Spitfire flypast confirmed for Lymm Historic Transport Day

A Spitfire fly past has been confirmed for the 5th annual Lymm Historic Transport Day which has a record line-up.

Organisers are putting the finishing touches to this year's event which has quickly become such a firm favourite on the local calendar as well as drawing in thousands from further afield.

The show on Sunday June 25, now has confirmation of the RAF Spitfire flypast which will be at the early time of 11.25am. This will follow on from the drive-in parade which passes through the village centre from 10.30 till 11am.

Some exciting late additions to the line-up include Fred Dibnah's famous steam engine "Betsy" (pictured below) which is being brought to the show by Fred's son Roger. The newly built Whitfield Light Railway will also be making only its second public appearance at this year's show along a narrow gauge track on the May Queen field.

Other highlights during the day will be the drive in parade at 10.30, the dinosaur walkabout on the field at 12.30pm and 2.30pm and the appearance of the baby Triceratops at 1.30pm. The whole day wraps up with the Historic Sail past at 16.30pm.

In between times there is simply masses to see and do, classic vehicles, traction engines, historic boats, Lego transport expo, model railways, remote control car racing, a full-size replica Spitfire, aircraft cockpits and large model planes.

The show also features an exciting new venue in the shape of Lymm Heritage Centre. Their team have been pulling out all the stops to be open in time for the Festival and are putting on an exhibition entitled "A Quiet Revolution" a fascinating local history of cycling featuring an amazing collection of historic bicycles kindly loaned by Walton Hall Cycle Museum.

With free parking and a vintage bus ride thrown into the ticket price of just £5 for an adult, £3 for a child or £12 for a family of four the whole day certainly seems to live up to its motto of being "One Amazing Day Out."

Event co-ordinator Alan Williams said: "And of course it can all only happen because of the work of a dedicated group of organising volunteers backed up on the day by 100+ stewards and marshals. They'll thank you for coming. Please be sure to thank them for help making it happen and have a great day."

Garden to open for charity

A LYMM garden is to open to the public as part of the National Garden Scheme – which supports a number of charities.

Mike and Gail Porter have been opening their garden at 10, Statham Avenue, Lymm for a number of years.

A beautifully structured, south facing quarter acre plot, it is described as peaceful, with pastel shades in early summer. It is carefully terraced and planted as it rises to the Bridgewater Canal towpath.

There is a formal clay paved courtyard with cordoned peach trees and a working greenhouse.

Rose pillars lead to established herbaceous beds and quiet shaded areas, bordered by azaleas and rhododendrons.

The garden will be open on Saturday and Sunday, July 1-2 from 11am to 5pm, when the admission charge will be £4, children free.

Teas will be served with homemade cakes and meringues with fresh fruit.

Former Lymm Post Office set to be new home for St Rocco's charity shop

LYMM'S former village centre Post Office is set to become a new home for St Rocco's Hospice, who are vacating their existing charity shop premises after 30 years.

St Rocco's will be leaving the premises near to the canal bridge and taking up residence in the site previously occupied by Harrisons and the Post Office next to the Lower Dam.

St Rocco's retail Manager Eric Russell said: "Our fantastic volunteers work so hard to make our shop in Lymm a success and they are very excited that they will soon be operating in a retail unit which is so much more fit for purpose.

"Not only are there very steep steps up to the entrance of the existing shop, but also a set of narrow steps inside which make moving the stock around a challenge for the volunteers."

The new location will see a marked improvement for all those in Lymm and the surrounding areas that support St. Rocco's by donating their pre-loved clothing or household items. The short stay car parking spaces outside the shop will make it much easier to drop things off.

It will also offer shoppers a better retail experience as there will be more space to display items and better lighting. As the entrance and the shop itself are all on one level, access should no longer be an issue and members of the public who have pushchairs or use wheelchairs will hopefully have no problem getting in and out.

It is not the first time that St. Rocco's have relocated in the village. The shop began life on the site of Lloyds Bank before moving round the corner.

"All the shop helpers and their families worked their socks off to get the shop ready to open," recalls Angela Coates, one of the original volunteers.

The task is similarly herculean this time round, but with everyone working together they are sure that they will be ready in time to open the doors during this year's Lymm Festival.

"We've always enjoyed a challenge in the Lymm shop," said Volunteer Link Manager Betty Hughes, who has volunteered for the hospice since the beginning. "We are so pleased to be moving in to a shop where we can set to and make an even bigger contribution to ensuring that St. Rocco's, a charity that we all love, is there for people when they really need the specialist care that it offers."

The volunteers will be opening the doors on Friday, June 23 and are promising a special welcome to all visitors during the first weekend in the new shop.

May Queen Festival washed out by hea

LYMM May Queen Festival was cancelled at the last minute after heavy overnight rain turned the May Queen field into a quagmire.

Event chairman Steve Harper made the tough decision after realising the field was too dangerous to use due to the soggy conditions.

He said: "When we went on the field in the morning, to start setting up, it was just too boggy. It would have been too dangerous and caused too much damage to the field if we had proceeded."

It is believed to be the first time the festival, which dates back more than 100 years, had been cancelled due to the weather.

But Lymm Morris Men, who are part of Thelwall Morris and were due to take part in the procession, helped maintain the tradition of the festival by putting on a performance of the ancient Lymm Morris Dance in the village centre, entertaining people who turned up not realising the festival had been cancelled.

As Lymm Life went to press, members of the May Queen committee were discussing options to re-schedule the festival.

They had been inundated with offers of support, including an offer to stage the crowning of the May Queen at one of the upcoming events of the Lymm Festival.

Last year, the May Queen Festival was also badly affected by torrential rain.

The procession went ahead in pouring rain but events on the field had to be cancelled.

Youth cyclists race against best in the UK

FOUR young riders from local cycling club North Cheshire Clarion raced for their club in Round Three of the British Cycling National Youth Circuit.

The selective event, which accepts only the best youth cyclists in the UK, gave these young cyclists, aged 11 to 14, a taste of professional level cycling, racing against the best riders from throughout the country.

The three day three stage event kicked off with a prologue time trial along Morecambe promenade. The second stage was held on a tough and technical closed road circuit in Lancaster, which the riders had to tackle repeatedly as they raced laps of the circuit. The stage was either up or down, there was no flat to be seen.

The final stage was held in torrential rain, and treacherous conditions, on the purpose-built Salt Ayre cycling circuit, also in Lancaster.

The riders, Evan Hacker, aged 11 and Lachlan Hacker, 14, who attend Lymm High School, Seb Grindley, 11, who attends Appleton Thorn Primary School and Hannah McClorey, 11, who attends Sandymoor School displayed true grit and determination.

Refreshments will be available at many gardens and plants raised by some of the garden owners will be on sale.

More details are available on the Lymm Festival website www.lymmfestival.org.uk or from the festival box office on the Pepper Street car park and ticket

25,000 visitors expected at Disability Awareness Day 2017

MORE than 25,000 people are expected to attend this year's Disability Awareness Day, which will be celebrating its 26th anniversary.

In 1992, who would have thought that a small information event, held in Warrington for local disabled people, would grow in size and stature, and would influence the development of an internationally-recognised Disability Awareness Day.

The annual event has inspired people from all over the world and provided advice and support to 100,000's of disabled people, their families, friends and carers.

DAD is the world's largest not-for-profit, voluntary-led, pan-disability exhibition, which will once again be hosted at Walton Hall Gardens on Sunday, 16 July with the support of joint principal sponsors St George Healthcare Group and St Mark Universal Copts Care.

A huge tented village housing over 250 exhibitors - including equipment suppliers; transport; holidays; leisure and employment providers; and support groups and services - is set to attract visitors to travel from all over the UK and beyond.

Inclusive Arts is just one of the highlights of the event - with a number of disabled artists including nationally recognised performers. The Main Arena will offer visitors a range of family entertainment including guide dog display teams, falconry displays and the ever popular Katumba samba band. Also on-site will be the fully accessible Sports Zone.

A free, accessible Park and Ride service is available from Wilderspool Park; free bus service every 30 minutes from 10am from Warrington Bus Interchange; British Sign Language (BSL) interpreters; trained assistants; and a scooter / wheelchair loans service promises to ensure DAD is fully inclusive to all.

"The background story to DAD is a great example of just how far a 'can do' attitude can take you," says Event Founder and Co-ordinator, Dave Thompson MBE DL.

'What started out as a one-off event is now the highlight of the international disabled community's calendar - inspiring similar events as far afield as India, Cameroon, Uganda and Gibraltar. Our team is also working closely with St Mark Universal Copts Care teams based in the UK and working in Egypt and Sudan'.

The big day on Sunday 16th July from 10am to 5pm - will be a fitting finale to a week comprising a variety of complementary events to savour, which are guaranteed to attract many more visitors.

For more details on DAD and 'DAD Week' and all the events listed, please contact Warrington Disability Partnership on 01925 240064 or visit www.disabilityawarenessday.org.uk

Award-winning Admove celebrates top performance with new premises

LYMM-based estate agent, Admove is celebrating its top performance by expanding to new 1,000 sq ft office premises in a prime location close to the village centre.

Having started up in a back bedroom in August 2016, company directors Mike Chung and Charlie Green have moved the business from strength to strength, listing over 70 properties and selling over 50 across the North West since January, making them the number one listing estate agent in Lymm for 2017.

The young entrepreneurs have great expectations for the future of the business, which last year was the first estate agent in Warrington to be awarded with a Gold British Property Award. The pair also hired their first member of staff in late 2016 and are currently looking for new recruits.

Company director, Charlie said: "Our main aim is to save money for our clients whilst providing them with a seamless and professional service. Dedication and continued hard-work has helped us to achieve a fantastic reputation in Lymm and surrounding area. Continued business growth has enabled us expand into a larger office space and now we are looking to welcome more Sales and Lettings Negotiators to join the team."

In 2016, Admove saved their customers on average £2,447 per sale and listed over £35 million worth of property and achieving 98% of the asking price. The team combine online efficiency with great local knowledge to achieve results for homeowners and landlords.

Mike added: "We would like to thank our clients for their support and positive feedback, without them we wouldn't have been able to achieve such great results over the past two years."

Admove is looking for local people to join the team who have knowledge of the area and previous estate agent experience. For those interested, please send CVs to info@admove.co.uk.

Now located on Church Road, Lymm, Admove offers free valuation, three simple selling options starting from £695 and lettings packages starting from £245. To find out more, please visit: www.admove.co.uk

Village fights to save its last bank

THE village of Lymm is fighting to save its last bank following the decision by the Lloyd's Banking group to close its local branch on July 4.

The parish council has applied to Warrington Borough Council to register the branch at Lymm Cross as an "asset of community value."

Cllr Graham Gowland said: "A working bank is really important for a thriving community and I hope the borough council can see this. We want the premises protected."

Lloyd's became the only bank in Lymm – population 12,000 – when Barclay's closed their branch last year.

Before that a number of other banks and building societies closed in the village – and earlier this year the village centre post office closed suddenly.

So far, efforts to find premises where a new post office could open have proved unsuccessful.

Cllr Gowland appealed to villagers to email the borough council at Devcontrol@warrington.gov.uk quoting 2017/30258, telling them why the building needs to be kept as a bank.

In addition, he asked locals to email Lloyds directly on customerserviceswestyorkshire@lloydsbanking.com telling them why the branch should be kept open.

Cllr Gowland added: "The branch has seen a drop in trade since Warrington Council changed the car park charges, but this is being overturned in June, and we hope the village economy will start to recover."

"But with the closure of our post office, we call on Lloyd's to support the village – helping Lymm prosper by keeping this important asset open. In return, we hope locals can support the branch and use it regularly."

The Asset of Community Value application can also be commented on here:

<https://tinyurl.com/lloydslymm>

At the time they announced the closure, Lloyd's said the branch had only 18 regular weekly personal and business customers.

If the property is registered as an asset of community value it means the owners have to give six months notice if they wish to sell it. If a local group then wishes to buy it they can then trigger a moratorium for six months to give them time to raise the money. But there is requirement for the owner to reduce the price.

'Bee-ing' Friendly for Lymm

LYMM is again preparing for the Britain in Bloom North West competition – and the theme this year is "bee-ing friendly for Lymm."

Judging takes place on July 19 and the organisers – the Lymm in Bloom voluntary group – are hoping they can do even better this year.

Previously the village has won a Silver in 2013 and Silver Gilt in 2014, 2015 and last year.

Lymm in Bloom look after and plant many of the displays in the village and this year there are more insect-friendly plants being planted, including a colourful display by Lymm in Bloom volunteers in the Sunken Garden with bee-friendly plants used in bedding displays.

The theme was chosen after the committee recognised the importance of pollinating insects.

Displays have also been planted by Lymm Jubilee WI, Lymm Jubilee Gardening Club, Lymm Churches, Lymm Youth and Community Centre, Lymm Traders, Lymm Parish Council and Warrington Borough Council.

Members of the group also run gardening clubs at Statham Primary School, Lymm Village Hall Pre-School and look after St Peter's churchyard in Oughtrington.

They also have ties to the Lymm Environment and Heritage Group, Oughtrington Community Orchard, The Lymm Festivities Group, Low Carbon Lymm, Keep Lymm Kleen and the Lymm Open Gardens.

Lymm in Bloom working parties are held on the last Sunday in the month at the Sunken Garden - next to Sexton's Village Bakery - at 10.30am unless otherwise stated.

Obituaries

Neville Woodyatt

Former local councillor Neville Woodyatt of Lymm died suddenly but peacefully at home on May 18.

Neville, who was 87 years old, had lived in Lymm for most of his life having moved here when he was just 4 years old. Neville was the much loved husband of Sheila, father of four children and grandfather of seven.

Neville was born in Altrincham in 1930 above the family green grocers shop on Seamons Moss Road. He was an only child but he came from a very close knit family and spent much of his childhood with his cousins who were like siblings to him. He moved to Lymm in 1934 where his father had a poultry farm.

He attended High Legh Primary School and Lymm Grammar School. He then went onto study Physics at Manchester University. At the Grammar School he excelled at sport and this became a regular part of his life. He played football for the Lymm Grammar School Old Boys then joined Lymm Oughtrington Park Cricket Club where he enjoyed playing for many years, captaining the 2nd team. He was the President up until his recent death. After retiring from cricket he joined Lymm Golf Club and was a member and regular player there for 35 years.

After leaving school Neville became an active member of the Lymm Grammar School Old Students Association. It was through this that he met his wife of 58 years, Sheila, at the opening of the school swimming pool in 1957.

After graduation, he qualified as an Electrical Engineer and then served in the RAF for two years. He began his career as an Electrical Engineer at AEI Metropolitan Vickers, transferring to ICI as a Control Engineer and Manager a few years later. He finished his career at the Electrical Engineering department at Manchester University.

Neville was an active and highly respected member of the community in Lymm. He served as a local Councillor for 28 years and was Chairman of the Parish Council in 1988. He was a governor at Evelyn Street Primary School and Appleton Thorn Primary School for many years.

After retiring Neville enjoyed spending time with his family and supported Sheila in her political career including supporting her when she was the Mayor of Warrington in 2000/2001. He enjoyed being the Mayors Consort and was very proud when he accompanied Sheila to Buckingham Palace when she received her MBE.

He was a devoted husband, father and grandfather and will be greatly missed.

William Pearson

THE funeral has taken place of William – better known as Bill - Pearson, formerly a life-long resident of Lymm, who died at St Mary's Care Centre, Burtonwood after a long fight with dementia. He was 96.

He died on May 4 and the funeral was at Lymm Methodist Church, followed by interment at St Mary's churchyard, Lymm. The service was led by Stephen Froggatt.

Bill attended Pepper Street School until going to work for his uncle at Duguid's Ltd, an engineering workshop in Elm Tree Road, at the age of 14.

He was unable to serve in the regular forces during World War

2 because of poor eyesight, but was a member of the Local Defence Volunteers (LDV) or Home Guard.

He was organist and an active member of New Road Methodist Chapel and later attended Eagle Brow Methodist Church after the two merged.

Bill leaves daughters Carol and Anne and son David, along with six grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements were by John Burrows and Sons, Lymm
