LITTLE seasonal good will was shown when Warrington Borough Council introduced the new pay-and-display car parking arrangements in the village.

I am sure most of you are now aware that free parking on Pepper Street has been reduced from two hours to one, while pay and display has also been introduced on the Davies Way and Henry Street car parks - despite the protests raised by the parish council and local residents.

The borough has also imposed a £10 all day fee in Pepper Street and a £2 all day fee on the other car parks.

In general most people visit Lymm to do more than shop and require more than an hour for their visit and these new charges will simply drive visitors away - and the chances of generating more income are highly unlikely as I am sure some of the canny folk of Lymm will simply travel from one car park to the other to avoid paying any charges!

Meanwhile those people with memory problems (and it comes to us all with age) are likely to be punished for forgetting to get a ticket in the first place!

Is it right the council should be penalising our older citizens who have spent a life time of paying taxes?

While we are on the topic of seasonal goodwill - can I say a big thank you to all the volunteers who have worked so hard to stage the annual Dickensian Festival - these people who give up their free time so the rest of us can enjoy ourselves are the back bone of our community.

Perhaps they should be rewarded with free parking passes for the village car parks for their endeavours - they set a fine example those in the corridors of power should follow!

Lions serve up a treat

A winning smile wins £250

by Lesley Wilkinson

A LYMM photographer's picture, called "A Lovely Smile," won an award in a regional competition.

Desmond Hawley, a member of Lymm Camera Club, won a £250 voucher for photographic equipment.

More than 1,000 photographs were entered in the year-long competition to raise awareness of the "Five Ways to Wellbeing" - five actions that can help people feel better and live longer.

A panel of professional photographers chose the six winning images.

Sue Henry, director MSH Partnership and formerly at NHS North West, said: "The Life through the Lens photo challenge was created to highlight the importance of the 'Five Ways to Wellbeing' - connect, be active, take notice, keep learning and give.

"It was also designed to get the region thinking about how to get the best from life. We've been overwhelmed by the response from the public across the North West and the judges were truly impressed by the calibre of entries our region has to offer."

The winning images were on show from December 8 at the Nexus Art Café in Manchester, and can be viewed at photos.yearofhealthandwellbeing.org.uk/gallery/winners-gallery

Historic transport day

PLANS are afoot for a major new event on the Lymm Calendar in 2013. Lymm's first "Historic Transport Day" will take place next June and will round off the first weekend of the Lymm Festival.

The festival is inviting historic working boats and pleasure boaters to join in the fun from June 20 when the festival kicks off with the traditional Foodfest. Sunday June 23 will be Historic Transport Day when the boats will be joined by classic and vintage cars, motor-bikes and bicycles on the May Queen field as well as indoor model railway displays.

"We are aiming to make this a great family day out - not just for Lymm folk but for many visitors from further afield" explained event co-ordinator Alan Williams. Apart from Lymm's own permanent attractions - including its great selection of eateries and shops - there will be food, drink and entertainment on the May Queen field. Plans include a drive into the village of vintage cars and a sail past of historic boats. Organisers are also aiming to provide the opportunity for visitors to board a vintage bus for a tour of the village or take a trip along the canal.

"This is clearly going to be a major project," said Alan. "But we have already had an enthusiastic response from a number of local organisations including The Ellesmere Port Boat Museum, The Bridgewater Canal Company, Lymm Cruising Club and any number of car, motor-bike, bicycle and model rail enthusiasts clubs. It really feels like an event that has been waiting to happen!"

The festival team are also aiming for a schools day on Friday June 21 to take advantage of having the historic working boats in the village so that local youngsters can gain an insight into their village's canal heritage.

If you would like to be involved in any part of the event - maybe by exhibiting or perhaps even helping with the organisation - please give Alan a call on 01925-754080 or email alanlymm@gmail.com. All ideas and input welcome.

Pudsey says thank you

Regional movie premiere ensures sell out success

THE regional premiere of Tony Hawks film "Playing the Moldovans at Tennis" ensured a packed house in front of a sell out 250 audience at Statham Lodge.

There were plenty of laughs but Tony also had the chance in the Q&A session that followed to talk about the Centre for Children with Cerebral Palsy in Moldova that bears his name and where there is a desperate need for improved resources.

Tony will donate a large part of his fee to the centre while a leaving collection raised over £100 in addition to £500 of sales of DVDs

A group from Lymm Round Table were so impressed by Tony's personal financial commitment to the project that they decided there and then to add a further £500 to the fund.

It was a great night, promoted by Lymm Festival with the room donated by The Statham Lodge and projection equipment on free loan from the High School.

Tony repaid the village's generosity by popping into the Youth and Community Centre the next day before leaving the village to look at progress on the refurbishment and to perform an impromptu opening ceremony of the new kitchen with some of the team including Joe and Steve Griffiths, John Gill, Geraldine Reynolds, Mike Shaw and Su Williams.

"I really enjoyed my first visit to Lymm and the whole friendly festival set-up," said Tony who has promised to spread the word among radio and TV colleagues about the welcome and the capacity audiences awaiting performers at Lymm Festival events.

Former Presidents honoured

LYMM ROTARTY Club's annual Charter Night was a great success, attended by a total of 110 club members, friends and guests, during the event at Statham Lodge Hotel.

During the evening Club President, Mike Boothman, presented two members, Ian Bunday (top left) and Tony Cookson, with Paul Harris Fellowships, Rotary's highest individual award, for their long service. Both have been Club President on two occasions and contributed a great deal of time and effort to the running of the club.

The Guest Speaker, Sheila Dibnah, peppered her speech with stories from her six year marriage to Fred Dibnah, the television presenter with an encyclopaedic knowledge of the Industrial Revolution, love of traction engines and a fearless steeplejack.

There are occasions that only a wife can know about and remember, such as the time she faced an unharnessed climb up a 250 foot factory chimney with Fred, going on honeymoon...to Wigan Pier...on a steam engine! And how Fred, innovatively, used bricks and spanners at their wedding reception.

SUE Banton, founder of the Lymm-based national charity STEPS, has announced that she is to retire this year.

She wants to plan for a smooth handover and is seeking someone to take over the role of director of the charity, which supports the families of children with conditions such as clubfoot, hip dysplasia and other lower limb conditions that affect mobility.

STEPS is a small charity, but supports some 2,000 families annually.

Sue founded the organisation more than 30 years ago when her son, Daniel, was born with club feet.

She was awarded the MBE for her work in 2010.

In addition to looking for someone to take over her own role and secure the long-term future of the charity, Sue wants to strengthen the team by recruiting new Trustees.

"This is a real opportunity for someone to help shape the future for STEPS and play a part in our successes," she said.

STEPS are particularly interested in people with a background in health, finance, local government or legal and who, ideally, live within the North West. The role is unpaid, but any additional costs incurred will be reimbursed.

STEPS can be contacted on 01925 750271 and more information is available at the website www.steps-charity.org.uk/GetInvolved/trustee-recruitment.html

Country women of the World

A MEMBER of the Cheshire Federation of the Women's Institute and representing the Associated Country Women of the World [ACWW] gave an informative talk at a meeting of Lymm WI.

The ACWW represents nine million women through its 450 societies in more than 70 countries and has a down to earth approach working partnership with its members and societies.

ACWW believe peace and progress are best supported by friendship and understanding in the relief of poverty, education, health and protection of the vulnerable.

The Cheshire Federation is working to support ACWW in Sri Lanka and Cameroon. Money raised is used to improve health and the standard of living by training rural women in small enterprises with local crafts and dry season vegetable cultivation.

TailorMade for you...

Local business bucking the trend...

Far from the usual doom and gloom of anything related to Financial Services, the poor state of the economy, underperforming investment funds and pensions The TailorMade Group are bucking the trend. Festive celebrations are well under way as we toast the year 2012 as our most successful one yet!

There are many numbers for us to crunch reflecting on this year:-

Most importantly and poignantly we have doubled our premises over on Olympic Park, adding to our head office "TailorMade House" the purchase of additional premises, soon to be named "Ian Shaw House" in memory of our colleague and Director, whom we sadly recently lost to Cancer.

We have also more than doubled our staff numbers, and now have 44 on the team with the latest addition being our third apprentice, following on from Hong Quatch and Dom Ball. Lucy Bretnall will study for an NVQ in Business and Administration via the Positive Outcomes recruitment process.

Alongside this, is the success of our team of Financial Advisers who all have successfully achieved their Level 4 Diplomas in Professional Financial Advice maintaining their status to the new government standards.

We have carried out on-going due diligence across a variety of Worldwide locations visiting "off-plan" and "completed" properties that our clients have invested in Crete, Cyprus and the Caribbean.

On top of all of this the team leader of TailorMade Alternative Investments, Phillippa Doust has find time to have her very own little girl! Welcome to the world Izabella Frances Stone!

Next year brings with it Auto-Enrolment, and with this, Large employers will be required to automatically enrol eligible employees into a qualifying pension scheme. By 2018 even the smallest employers will have to engage. Many still have no idea that this is coming and even when they do have no idea how to handle it. So register your business with us at info@tailormadegroup.co.uk and we will keep you up to date with the staging dates when this is applicable to your business and guide you through the process.

So 2013 looks like an even busier year and we'll sign off thanking everyone for their business this year, and wishing you a happy festive season and a successful 2013.

Do you have any preserved pension arrangements? • Would you like to decide where your pension fund is invested? • Would you like all your funds in one place? • Would you like the option to put your funds into a wider variety of Investments? • Would you like a more proactive service from your pension provider? • Have you been dissatisfied with your current pensions performance? • Are you concerned about having enough income when your time comes to retire? If you answered yes to any of the above questions.

It's time to act...

Advertiser's announcement

New Year, New You!

by Paul Mason

AS another year draws to a close and the festive season fills you with the joy of spending time with friends and family enjoying life to the fullest, in the back of your mind is the thought of another 6lbs added to your already full figure or beer belly.

Ladies ... has it been another year of putting everyone else first, running the kids here, there and everywhere and doing this with a smile on your face? But at what expense? Neglecting yourself physically and emotionally as the pounds creep on? You continue to put on a brave face and laugh and joke about a new year's resolution but inside feeling low and unappreciated?

Gents.....have you put yet another hole in your belt? Starting to bend over to see your toes? Dream of getting those elusive abs out next year? In reality, working so hard that you never see your wife or kids and when you do you're too tired or grumpy to play with them.

I want you to be brutally honest for a second and answer the question below:

How SICK and TIRED are you of falling victim to one, or more of the following?

- Feeling bloated and fat
- Beer belly hanging over your jeans
- Struggling to achieve fat loss in stubborn areas such as your bum, hips and thighs

- Seeing your slim and desirable clothes hanging in your wardrobe collecting dust
- Trying every diet and getting NOWHERE with it
- Feeling lifeless in the mornings and sleepy in the afternoon
- Wasting money on supplements, gyms, and classes only to be let down
- Food cravings that last until your 'WILL POWER' finally gives in to temptation
- Feeling dumpy & sluggish vowing to "start next week"

We have news for you - it doesn't have to be like this any longer.

Don't go into the New Year with best intentions and have no plan. Book your FREE taster session with Masons Fitness at the White Rooms and we WILL 100% guarantee to get you into the shape you have always wanted, both physically & emotionally.

New business given warm welcome

LOCAL business owners and residents were invited to celebrate the launch of a brand new business in Lymm village, The Evergreen Clinic.

Evergreen is an aesthetic clinic which has just opened in The Cross Courtyard, near the Terrace Café. The clinic offers a wide range of aesthetic treatments, including anti wrinkle injections, dermal fillers and laser hair removal.

Locals and neighbours were invited to an exclusive open day where they could take a look around the newly refurbished clinic, meet the team and find out more about the treatments on offer, as well as experience a free taster session of LED Phototherapy.

Managing Director, Alison Stananought said: "Lymm is a very community-driven place; ever since we decided to open our new clinic, we've been made to feel really welcome by everyone in the local area, so we felt it was important to open our doors and give them a chance to find out what we're all about.

"We're so proud of the new clinic; a lot of hard work has gone into refurbishing it; the building was previously used as a picture framers and art gallery, so it looks completely different now, and we wanted people to come in and see how it's been transformed.

"The feedback we've had from our guests has been really positive - we've already had people requesting anti aging injections and red light therapy to boost and rejuvenate their skin. One patient has already commented on the thorough, professional medical consultation given and this is where she'll be coming from now on."

For more information about The Evergreen Clinic, visit the website www.evergreenclinic.co.uk or call 01925 756 411.

Paramedics visit pre-school

CHILDREN at St Mary's Pre-School, Lymm were given an insight into the life of a paramedic.

A team of paramedics - complete with ambulance - visited the pre-school and took part in an interesting question and answer session.

The children even got a chance to look inside the ambulance.

Another special visitor to the pre-school was "Goldie" the guinea pig who dropped in on a couple of visits, much to the delight of the children.

When does a hole in a footpath become dangerous?

HOW deep does a hole in a tarmac footpath have to be to become dangerous?

The question is being asked by members of the Higher Lane Action Group, who successfully campaigned for additional traffic management measures on the A56 in Lymm when the road was resurfaced last year.

Group spokesman Chris Wakefield said he had assumed that when the road was resurfaced, the footpaths would also be repaired.

But he was mistaken - and when he raised the matter with the borough council he was told the criteria used to decide if a footpath needed repairing was a 20mm sharp edge trip in flagged footways and a 25mm localised depression in tarmac footways.

Mr Wakefield said: "It seems that holes have to be an inch deep before they are considered dangerous."

He has urged Higher Lane residents to look at the footpath outside their homes and raise the matter with the council if they have any concerns.

The council says the footpaths were inspected at pre-design stage and again at detailed design stage and pre-construction stage.

Records were also checked to see if there had been any claims for tripping.

There were no significant issues with the condition of the footpath and visual surveys identified only a handful of localised areas requiring repair.

Mr Wakefield has also asked the council if it is possible to carry out a survey to see if the traffic management measures introduced have resulted in any reduction in speeds.

One action group member has reported an incident when an MG car was written off following a late night crash involving a speeding driver and another major incident near Foxley Hall.

He wondered if a more physical speed intervention measure might have avoided the incidents and added: "I hope this isn't a warning."

Another resident has reported seeing incidents of drivers - some exceeding the speed limit - having "near misses" at the junction of Rectory Lane and Higher Lane, having apparently been confused by the traffic management measures introduced at the junction.

Golfers reach national finals

MEN'S and Women's teams from High Legh Park Golf Club reached the final of the National Golf Club Challenge, in support of Help for Heroes.

Sixty finalists battled the elements over two days at the historic Ailsa course at Turnberry, in Scotland.

The men's team consisted of Adam Fletcher, Kwai Yu, Ken Lawton, Dave Geary, Dave Wakerley, Chris Wright, Martin Berry, Matt Olley, Ross Starkey and Simon Dixon. The women's team was made up of Elizabeth Jackman, Christine McEwan, Vicky Gent, Christine Murphy and Anne Robinson.

Both teams were placed third and Ross Starkey was also placed third in the individual Stableford competition.

Golfers celebrate 'club of the year' award - again!

MEMBERS of Lymm Golf Club are celebrating after winning the "Golf Club of the Year" title for the second year in succession.

Judges in the annual Club Mirror awards competition praised the club for its strong trade despite the harsh economic climate.

The club was praised for its efforts to pull in newcomers and welcome families throughout the year - wedding receptions, kids Christmas discos and Sunday lunches. The club's performance is largely down to club house manager Karen Fyfe and house chairman Iain Hebenton with the assistance of the house committee and a team of 26 staff.

Karen believes the venue's whole offer is the key to its success.

She said: "While golf is at the heart of the club, we have been delighted to see the wedding, private party and summer balls trade really take off in 2012.

"We have worked hard to forge relationships with local schools and businesses which means we are already taking bookings for 2014. The excellent drinks menu we can provide courtesy of Marston's ensures our customers get something a little different, particularly our changing cask ales."

It was the 20th year of the Club Mirror awards and there were almost 1,000 entries in 26 categories. The awards are open to a wide range of licensed facilities, ranging from social entertainment to sport and fitness.

Martial arts success

Martial Arts students came together to compete in a competition held at Lymm High School recently.

Members of Gen 'Dai Martial Arts club, which has groups in Partington, Lymm, Knutsford and a new site in Urmston, battled it out to win trophy's and medals in various disciplines, kata, team kata and kumite.

The following Lymm students gave brilliant performances. The boys kumite was won by Jack Fearnhead and Emily Daly took the girls title. Andrea Murphy fought in the Ladies kumite and came in 1st place. Matthew Shard's practice paid off as he won the boys kata and Katie Wright won the girls kata competition.

An excellent nunchuka competition saw Joseph Shard from the Lymm class take away the first place trophy.

Obituaries

Elsie Fox

Elsie Fox, aged 92 of Lymm, passed away peacefully on Tuesday 6 November.

The much loved wife of the late John, mother to Anthony and nana to Callum and Daniel. The funeral service was on 16 November at Altrincham Crematorium.

Funeral arrangements were by Albert R Slack of Wilmslow.

All enquiries to Albert R Slack Ltd., Funeral Directors, 84 South Oak Lane, Wilmslow, Cheshire SK9 6AT. Tel:01625 525063.

Mr Reginald Hinett

FORMER Lymm resident Reginald Hinett has died, aged 76, in Leighton Hospital, Crewe.

The funeral service was at Grappenhall Independent Methodist Church, followed by interment at Fox Covert cemetery. The service was conducted by Roger Hazeldine and music was by members of Warrington Male Voice Choir, of which Mr Hinett had been a member.

A keen singer, Mr Hinett had been a member of a number of choirs and was also a member of Lymm Garden Club.

He had served with the Cheshire Regiment in Germany and later joined the Territorial Army.

As a young man he had a large collection of tropical birds in an aviary and had supplied birds to Queen's Park Crewe.

Funeral arrangements were by John Burrows and Sons of Lymm.

Chocolates everywhere!

THERE were chocolates everywhere ensuring a full membership turnout at the annual meeting of Heatley WI.

The normal business was dealt with by president Liz Wellbelove and retiring secretary Ann Oakes. Members heard a list of exciting future events and that the group's bank balance was in a healthy state.

Liz, who was once again elected president, thanked those who had helped with the group. Ten members stepped forward to serve on the committee for the next year.

A vote of thanks to the committee was proposed by Jose Pymm.

The bran tub was opened and members found interesting presents - including chocolates.

There were two sessions of bingo, with chocolates as prizes. Chocolates were also the prizes in the quiz and the raffle.

The evening ended with tea and coffee...with chocolate biscuits.

Parking rage

Ex-Lymm shopper
(Name and address supplied)

THE check-out lady in our local store seemed to be taking longer than usual to deal with me and I was getting more and more impatient. Eventually I could restrain myself no longer and spoke rather sharply to her.

She replied in kind and we ended up having an argument - for the first time ever.

Afterwards I felt sorry and apologetic and so did she.

But later I realised what had caused this little dispute. The pressure I was under to get back to my car before my free one hour parking ticket ran out.

OK, I could have put 50p in the machine in the first place, but I did not know my trip was going to take more than an hour. Even if I had, quite frankly I would have resented adding 50p to my shopping bill. It takes quite a lot of bargain hunting to save 50p on food.

So in future I will shop somewhere else where parking is free.

Is this what the council wants?
