Editor's Comment

I FIND it staggering that our beautiful village is still plagued by irresponsible dog owners (see readers letters on page 21).

Are there really so many dog owners who allow their pets to foul our streets and recreational areas - or is it the few who are letting their pets foul in lots of different areas?

For many years now we have been told about the REAL dangers created by dog fouling - which include the risk of a child losing their vision - yet it would appear there are still idiots out there who allow their pets to foul and don't clean up after them.

It is an offence to allow your pet to foul on a public pavement which can be punished with a fine - the problem is many people are reluctant to inform on their neighbours.

If this really is the case Lymm Life is prepared to tackle this issue head on once and for all.

If you see someone allowing their pet to foul in a public place furnish us with their details in confidence and we will make them well aware of the offence - and pass their details on to the authorities.

All we ask is that you also supply us with your own contact details so we can verify it is coming from a trusted source - simply email us at info@lymmlife.co.uk and leave the rest to us.

Poppy launch

LYMM and District Royal British Legion will launch its annual Poppy Appeal in the village on Saturday October 30.

The event, at Lymm Cross at 10am, is aimed at raising public awareness of the campaign.

The legion will hold its Civic Service and Parade on Remembrance Sunday, November 14. Those taking part will assemble at 9.15 am on Davies Way Car Park, Lymm, for a 9.30am march off to St Mary's Church for the service at 10.00am.

On Tuesday November 16 the branch will hold its 89th Annual General Meeting at 8pm, at the clubhouse, 1 Legh Street, Lymm. Further information is available from Mr T H Bone on 01925 753924.

Students' tribute to a much-loved teacher

STUDENTS at Lymm High School organised a memorial service and tree planting ceremony in memory of a much-loved teacher who died tragically earlier this year.

Organisers back (L-R), Becki Carrow and Siobhan Walshe with front, Nicola Jones and Abbie Atherton.

Eirlys Patchett (pictured right) was a chemistry teacher at the school for 31 years and died of a heart condition following a quad-biking incident on her family's farm in North Wales.

The service was led by the Rev Chris Newton, from Lymm Baptist Church and students Siobhan Walshe, Rebecca Carroll, Nicola Jones and Abigail Atherton, who were all taught by Mrs Patchett, organised the ceremony.

A plaque was made by the school's design technology department and placed next to the tree in the school's central courtyard, so she will be remembered by future generations of pupils.

Siobhan said: "Mrs Patchett was loved by staff and pupils alike, for her hard work, commitment and humour. "We decided to organise the memorial service to recognise her outstanding efforts and her life at Lymm High School.

"We collected money over the weeks that followed her passing, from staff and students. We raised £215 in total and decided to use some of the money to buy a memorial tree.

"All other proceeds are to be donated to the North Wales Air Ambulance, who went to her assistance immediately prior to her passing away and who were the family's choice of charity."

The service was attended by students, close colleagues, members of Mrs Patchett's family and the school's headship team.

Lymm High School has a tradition of memorial trees. Two other trees in memory of former pupils are planted there and a memorial has been brought from the old grammar school site, where trees were planted in memory of "old boys" who were killed in the war.

Storage building for vintage cars - and a tank!

PLANNING chiefs have given a seal of approval for a storage building on a 14-acre estate at Lymm which houses a vintage car collection - and an army tank.

The development, in Crouchley Lane, had angered neighbours because it was built in advance of receiving planning consent.

They claimed this showed a disregard for them and for planning law. But applicant Rod Bond said the building had replaced a slightly smaller one which it would have been unviable to restore.

In addition to a collection of vintage cars and the military tank, it would be used for kennels, an aviary, storage and replacement living accommodation for a security guard and his family.

The original building was of 536 sq metres but was six metres high compared with the new one which will be 5.3 metres.

Officers recommended the scheme be approved because it was in accord with council policies - and members of the borough council's planning sub-committee agreed that had the plan been submitted in advance of construction it would have been approved.

Bonfire night set to go with a bang

LYMM and District Round Table are planning their annual bonfire night extravaganza at Lymm Rugby Union Club hoping to raise thousands for charity in the process.

More than £4,000 was raised last year when around 1,500 people attended the event on Crouchley Lane.

This year's event will once again be held at the Rugby Club on Saturday, November 6, doors open at 6pm, bonfire lit at 6.30pm and firework display from 7pm.

Organiser Richard Storey said: "Last year's bonfire event was a great success and we're hoping for more of the same this year."

"Lots of worthy local causes benefited including Cotebrook House, Camsley Grange Riding for the Disabled, Warrington Speak Up and a disabled access for Lymm Rugby Club.

Tickets will be on sale - complete with 'Guy' - by The Cross, Lymm, on the three weekends running up to bonfire night, and people can also pay on the door.

Prices are £10 for family (up to two adults and two children), £5 for adults and £2 for children.

The Round Table are also seeking sponsors for the event - for more information contact Richard on 07929 357580 or email: info@lymmroundtable.co.uk.

Twilight walk raises £2869

LYMM High School and the PTA organised a second Twilight walk in aid of Christies as part of the Founders Day celebrations raising an impressive £2869.

Special thanks to the sponsor Barclays Bank for their support at the event which attracted 200 parents, staff and students.

Everyone enjoyed the walk from school across The Bridle to the village and back along the canal, through Spud Wood up to the Cricket Pavillion.

The evening also included the traditional staff v parents cricket match, followed by a delicious hog roast, bar and homemade cakes by the students.

Although fireworks can be very exciting for us, many pets find them very distressing. Here are some tips to help your dog as bonfire night approaches.

A week before the event, prepare a refuge area and encourage your dog to use it by hiding treats there.

On the day of the event, move your dog to the refuge area, ensuring there are plenty of toys to play with.

Put some music on – preferably something with a lot of drum beats. It doesn't have to be loud.

Play an active game with your dog.

Ignore any fearful behaviour – don't fuss or attempt to reassure your dog when it is scared as this rewards the behaviour.

Don't punish your dog when it is scared. Make sure your dog is kept secure at all times so that he/she doesn't bolt if a loud noise occurs.

For really nervous animals there are products available to help calm your pet. Dog appeasing pheromone is naturally produced by the dog's mother from the area around her mammary gland when she is producing milk and helps to reassure puppies.

DAP products contain a synthetic version of this pheromone which can help to reassure and calm not only puppies but adult dogs even years after being separated from their mother. DAP products are available as collars, sprays and diffusers. Zylkene is a natural product found in the mother's milk which she uses to placate her young and which is available in an easy to give form mixed in with your pet's food. Action group 'making progress'

MEMBERS of the Higher Lane Action Group - the group campaigning for lower speeds on the A56 through Lymm - believe they are making progress.

A meeting with members of the parish and borough councillors has resulted in an agreement to actively promote a traffic calming scheme that can, within reason, be fitted into the forthcoming planned maintenance programme for the road.

Action group chairman Chris Wakefield said: "We did not succeed in convincing all councillors of the truth of what we had considered to be unarguable facts. However, the mood improved considerably when we got round to the details. Councillors saw that there was a lot of sense in many of the traffic calming suggestions and began to build on what we put before them. It was agreed that the borough councillors would now actively promote a traffic calming scheme.

"They have been true to their word and have already asked the officers concerned to liaise with us." Mr Wakefield said the group had reminded councillors of a number of key points including:

1. Disregard of speed limit by at least 20mph at all times of the day.
2. More than 200 drivers fined since April.
3. Extreme narrowness of pavements.
4. No alternative safe routes for vulnerable pedestrians.
5. Pavements in appalling condition - not properly resurfaced for 30 years.
6. Parked cars blocking pavements.

Mr Wakefield said although the action group had put in a lot of work on behalf of residents, the public had played a big part by sending an avalanche of mail without which potential improvements would never even have been considered.

New spa opens in High Legh

THE Barn Spa has opened its doors to the public after a successful Open Day introducing visitors to its' wide variety of treatments and therapies.

The Spa, already known as an International meditation retreat centre attracting visitors from as far apart as America and Africa, has expanded to offer a host of beauty and holistic treatments. Visitors were able to enjoy wine, canapés as well as choose from a selection of mini-treatments providing a taster of what is available.

"As soon as you drive through the gates, you start to relax", one visitor commented on the delightful secluded setting, while another was amazed at the variety of things on offer. After indulging in a hot stone massage, organic facial or Indian head massage, you can chill out on the massage chair in the relaxation area, enjoy the hot tub or go for a swim in the endless pool.

Popular treatments are the Neal's Yard Remedies Organic Facial which combines hot and cold stones as well as pressure point massage to leave you feeling totally relaxed, and Shiatsu - described by some as Reflexology for the whole body. Using palm and finger pressure, this treatment leaves you floating as well as energised with flowing 'chi'. We also can't forget the Arasys micro-current Inch-loss system.

Each session is equivalent to at least 300 sit-ups, without any effort from you; perfect for speedy toning for that special occasion.

In addition, the Spa is home to a selection of natural holistic therapies including herbal medicine and homeopathy offering natural treatments to complement conventional medicine, helping to treat the causes of ill-health as well as the symptoms. All in all, a holistic retreat, and all less than 10 minutes from Lymm Village!

Exclusive re-launch at The Look!

The event showcased the recently renovated exclusive Aveda Salon and Spa while customers and staff helped raise funds for the children's charity.

Salon owner Sue Mitchell said: "I would like to thank all the businesses that donated prizes, we couldn't have done it without you!

"Despite the poor weather, we had a very successful turn out with about 150 people braving the rain to come throughout the night.

"The Look Team treated many people to consultations, beauty treatments and Aveda rituals and a good night was had by all!"

At The Look, there is a wide range of Aveda treatments available from a dedicated team of stylists and therapists, and there are various offers available allowing customers to sample new Spa treatments at special discounted prices.

The Look would also like to introduce a new nail technician and therapist, Katie and is now getting ready for the run up to Christmas with appointments going fast, so book now to avoid disappointment.

There are special Christmas packages, gift cards and Aveda gift packs available.

Clients can book online through the website www.thelookonline.co.uk and Facebook page ('the look salon').

Meanwhile training nights take place on a Tuesday night for junior stylists and models are needed for all services at a very discounted rates.

Festival create

THE third B Festival organised at the Jolly Thresher pub went off with a real buzz raising more than £3,000 for two charities!

Tickets went flying out from the day they went on sale. Everybody was looking forward to another great day - and no one was disappointed!

The line up was a real diverse selection of truly professional and fabulous acts, the discos, groups, solo artists, entertainers and of course the B Festival Bee entertained everyone all afternoon. The audience enjoyed the delicious Hog Roasts too.

Organisers paid tribute to the special support from many people, especially the volunteers and sponsors.

The amount raised was a huge £3,345 split between the Diabetes Research Charity and Myeloma Blood Cancer Research - so a massive thank you from the B Festival Committee to all who came on the day and made it a very special occasion with a very special atmosphere. Here's to 'B Fest 4'!

Volunteers urgently needed

VOLUNTEERS are urgently needed to help with the ongoing work at Oughtrington Community Centre.

Members of the existing Oughtrington Community Centre Committee have secured two substantial grants towards the cost of replacing the roof and an order has been placed with a firm of architects to produce a full specification for the work. An order has also been placed with a specialist H&S company to ensure the work takes place safely. There are some final hurdles to overcome before they gain access to the grants and choose the contractor to carry out the work but they are hopeful they should be under way before too long.

Meanwhile thanks go to Geoff Bates and Stephen Dell, the OCC website has been updated with pictures and details of all the rooms in the centre for hire.

This has added a professional edge to the marketing of the rooms and will hopefully attract other new users to the Centre. For more information visit www.oughtrington.co.uk. Oughtrington Community Centre is run for the benefit of the local Community and its children, completely by volunteers.

Spokesperson Andrew Wilson said: "We need local residents to help run this centre. Please do not leave this to "others", your Community needs you.

Please contact Andrew on 01925 753098 or wilsonlymm1961@btinternet.com to find out more and to get involved.

Positives and negatives!

THE difference between positive stress, which is good, and negative stress, which is bad was explained to members of Heatley WI.

Speaker was health kinesiologist Brigitte Hackney who told members how she was able to relieve stress, anxiety and panic attacks. She also advised them on allergies, toxins, phobias and nutrition.

Brigitte also explained how she is able to help dogs and horses by working with their owners. She was thanked by Irene Thomason.

At the start of the meeting, at Oughtrington Primary School, there was a two minutes silence in memory of Iris Miller who had been a member for many decades and has recently died.

The president Liz Wellbelove and secretary Ann Malcolm dealt with a range of business including information on the national resolution "Country of Origin Labels," contemporary writers and future events.

A bouquet was presented to Irene Thomason, a long standing member, who is leaving to spend time between her daughters in Scotland and New Zealand.

In May members were given parsnip seeds and the results were the competition. Margaret Ratcliffe had grown the largest, Ursula Gunn the smallest and Margaret Armstrong the most unusual a tomsnip (a tomato and parsnip).

Margaret Ratcliffe won the raffle and the plant was sent to Linda Fishwick.

Lions support new charity

LYMM Lions have donated £300 to Birchwood based Brainwave Northwest, a new charity which works with children with developmental delay, a brain injury or a genetic condition, helping them to reach their full potential.

Picture shows Ken Scully from Lymm Lions and Matt Greenhalgh from St. James's Place Partnership Wealth Management in Lymm with the cheque while Carole Williams, a physiotherapist working with Brainwave, provides therapy for a little boy who was attending the centre with his family for a two day initial assessment.

The sensory room at the centre was funded by the St. James's Place Partnership Foundation.

Calendar boys on sale!

A charity calendar featuring local businessmen and celebrities 'baring all' is now on sale to help raise funds for charity.

'Calendar Boys' is the brainchild of members of the Lymm Ladies Circle and is now on sale throughout the village.

They are hoping for as much 'exposure' as possible, as the money raised will be split between Everyman, a national charity for national cancers and local Cheshire-based charities.

Headed by Catherine Sharman, Kay Hilton and shot by Cheshire photographer Sandi Hodgkinson, a special launch event took place at Cafe Salar in the village centre.

Among those taking part is Lymm's Town Crier Peter Powell, the Hopkinson butchers, Lymm woodburner installer Jamie Sharman and florist Karl Welsh.

Local celebrity and musician Matthew Corbett was happy to show that he looked good naked, by posing on his boat on Lymm Canal while his friend Sooty is a centrefold!

The calendar's can be bought at various outlets including Hopkinsons butchers, Rushgreen Service Station, Sextons, The Terrace, Bibas, Cheshire Nail Lounge, Banners and Edgar Art and Framing.

Anyone wanting to order online and find out more about the calendar should visit www.lymmcalendar.co.uk.

The calendar will also be on sale in most of the shops appearing in the calendar for £10.00.

Dining Out with Lymm Life

at the Spread Eagle

IT'S always a pleasant experience to return to Lymm's Spread Eagle - and with the cold winter nights approaching, there is no warmer and cosier place to enjoy an evening meal.

We have dined there many times over the years and have always found the food to be first class.

Our latest visit was no exception. Friendly, cheerful staff immediately made us feel at home and our starter - a delicious vegetable soup with crusty bread - prepared us for what was to follow.

The breaded mushrooms and chicken goujons took our eye, but you can't really ask for more than one starter, can you?

Choosing the main course was a problem as the menu offered a wide range of tempting dishes.

These included chicken and bacon salad, ham and eggs, whole tail scampi, 10oz gammon steak, curry of the day and roast of the day - plus a further range of value-for-money dishes such as beef burgers, veggie burgers and the famous John Willie's pies.

I opted for a chicken sizzler with rice - an extremely tasty meal - while my companion put the chef to the test by asking for something that wasn't on the menu.

She fancied plain, grilled chicken with roast potatoes and vegetables and gravy and he came up trumps.

Afterwards there was a tempting range of desserts and coffee to round off a perfect evening.

Charity extravaganza

A LYMM-based charity is holding a charity food and wine extravaganza to raise funds.

The Children's Adventure Farm Trust (CAFT) has arranged the event at The Cinnamon Lounge, Bowdon, following the success of a similar event in 2008.

There will be a range of fine wines from all over the world, accompanied by a range of dishes specially cooked to complement them. Experts will be on hand to advise and guide on tasting.

The event is on Thursday, October 21 and details are available from 01 565 830053 or events@caft.co.uk

New charity shop opens in village

A new charity shop has opened in Lymm Village offering support for a number of causes at home and abroad.

The International Aid charity is a Christian organisation offering loving support to a number of causes including orphans, the elderly, sick, prisoners, addicts and the oppressed. The charity has been running for 19 years and Lymm is the 22nd shop to open in the North West.

The majority of contributions are recycled in some way. If they're not sold in the shop they are sent overseas for humanitarian aid, or the charity receive money for recycling items.

They are appealing to local residents to have a clear out for Christmas and bring unwanted items along to the new shop premises or have a browse at various bargains now on offer.

Tennis tournament success

LYMM Lawn Tennis Club held a highly successful annual club closed tournament sponsored by Handelsbanken.

The mens doubles winners were Gareth Podmore and James Reid, who are pictured (right) with tournament secretary Amanda Harbidge and Dennis Evans from Handelsbanken who donated the trophy.

Ladies doubles winners were top Cheshire junior Kim Schmeder and her partner Annie White. (Annie and her family donated the mixed doubles trophy, The Blakeman Cup).

The mixed doubles winners were Alex Newell and Rebecca Newell.

Law firm scores a winner

LYMM Rugby Club has signed a new sponsorship deal with law firm Forshaws Davies Ridgway.

The deal, worth several thousand pounds, will provide welcome support for the newly promoted club for the whole season.

Tim Jordan, a partner at the Warrington-based firm said: "As a local firm, we have strong ties with the local community we serve. Lymm Rugby Club gave us a fantastic display last season and we are proud to be associated with this great team as they carry forward the hopes of all local fans into the new league."

Celebrating the sponsorship deal at the Crouchley Lane ground are: Frank Maycock (main sponsor), Danny McNichol (Lymm RC chairman), Tony Wright (LRC president), Norman Banner and Tim Jordan (FDR partners).

Irresponsible dog owners Peter and Mary Burton, Lymm

WE are owners of a new puppy who always pick up our pup's poo, when in public spaces as well as at our own property.

We are disgusted by the numerous heaps of poo left by irresponsible dog owners who do not clean up after their dogs, in popular areas around Lymm.

Areas such as Longbutt Lane, Spud Wood, the canal towpath and most areas around the Dam, not to mention just about every other footpath and pavement in Lymm area.

This thoughtless behaviour is obviously antisocial and a health risk especially to children and pedestrians who may tread in, or otherwise come in contact with the deposits in question.

We would urge the community together with Lymm Life to get behind a drive to put an end to this disgusting neglect by the many, it would seem, irresponsible dog owners.

Village footfall Victor Girardier, Lymm

CONCERN has been expressed that one of Lymm's banks is closing on two days a week. However there are still two other 'full-time' banks and the post office. I believe that there are far more serious cut backs in the Lymm retail scene for residents and shoppers.

In the recent past we have lost the newsagent, the greengrocer and the wine merchants; worst of all we lost our supermarket - I do not consider its replacement to be anything like in the same category. These losses have a more significant effect on the village footfall.

Fifteen to twenty years ago the concern was that Lymm would mainly consist of banks and estate agents. It would appear that being an "eating out" mecca is now the village's most likely future role. This may be a sign of the times but it would seem a tragedy if we cannot retain our remaining independent food retailers, never mind attract new ones.

Perhaps the council could further examine the very high tax/rates burden these businesses have to sustain

Sophie's recipe for success

SOPHIE Harari has returned to her roots to achieve her dream - and to contribute to the economy and community of Lymm.

Sophie was brought up in Cheshire before she went away to university to study hotel and catering management. She took what she learned on her training and travelled the world, working in Germany, Canada, Dublin and on cruise ships.

Now her dream of starting her own business has come true, opening a café which is part of Lymm Nurseries, where her goal is to offer homemade and locally sourced food and drinks, including Fair Trade coffee and hot chocolate.

She has also set up 'shop windows' for local artists, crafts companies and other fascinating mini boutiques. Her goal is to be an active participant in the community life of the area, and she seems to be off to a flying start!

It's been a lot of hard work but Sophie is thrilled with the service she's been able to deliver as well as the reception she has received locally. At the official opening Parish Council Chair person Pam Hunter declared the café open, in the presence of Adam O'Conner, who won the right to be the first official customer - as well as lunch for the whole family.

Sophie's Kitchen offers Cup Cakes,

Breakfast, lunch and afternoon tea, as well as buffets to takeaway. For a full menu visit the website (www.sophiskitchen.co.uk).

Telephone orders can be made by calling 07957 315 710. Anyone ordering a breakfast (for £1.99) or lunch (for £3.99) for 5 friends, gets a FREE meal! Ask at the café for details

Sophie's café is open Monday to Sunday 9am - 5 pm. and offers breakfast, lunch, afternoon teas, light snacks, coffee and cakes.

Obituaries

Mavis Thomason

THE funeral has taken place of Mrs Mavis Thomason (nee Walker), of Lymm.

She died in Three Bridges Nursing Home, Latchford, aged 96 on August 23 after suffering from a long illness.

She lived all her life in Lymm and after leaving school worked at Wrights Gold Beatings until marriage to Thomas in 1937.

She enjoyed working for her church, St Mary's, helping out at various functions and with tasks such as collating the magazine and laundering the altar cloth. She was always willing to help out people in need, such as making cakes or washing. Her husband died in 2001.

She is survived by her children Bernard, Pam and Roger, grandchildren and great grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements were by John Burrows and Sons, Lymm.

Nora Marsland

THE funeral has taken place of Mrs Nora Marsland (nee Featherstone) of Birchbrook Road, Lymm.

She died at Meadowview Care Home, Penketh, aged 96 on August 3 after suffering from bronchopneumonia following a serious fall.

Mrs Marsland and her late husband Tom moved from Oswaldtwistle to Lymm 10 years ago to be near her niece Jacki Turner and husband George.

After Tom's death Mrs Marsland enjoyed her weekly visit to the luncheon club at Oughtrington Community Centre.

Funeral arrangements were by John Burrows and Sons of Lymm.
