THE dog attack incident reported on the opposite page seems to have attracted a lamentable response from the police.

If a child had been involved it would have been national news with calls for the attacking dog to have been destroyed.

There would have certainly been a lot of police activity and interest in the case and possible criminal proceedings.

If a dog is knocked down by a motorist it is considered a serious enough incident to be reported to the police - so why so little police interest when a family pet is attacked and nearly killed?

I find it hard to believe police advice should be for the victims to try and contact the owner of the offending animal to exchange pet insurance details!

I know opinions are divided on dogs - but I do know for many people they are an important member of the family and for some childless couples one of the most important possessions in their life.

Not being a dog owner myself I can only imagine the horrors experienced during the incident at Lymm Dam but believe an incident as serious as this should warrant some kind of police investigation.

Of course we only have one side of a story and I am more than happy to publish the other side of the story if the owner of the Japanese Akitas would like to come forward.

From what I have heard these dogs should certainly be muzzled when out walking in public - as any future incident could involve a child.

Thank you

Cpl Dave Carter RAF Wittering, Peterborough

I WOULD like to take this opportunity to thank you for all the hard work you do in publishing the Lymm Life on the Internet.

I am a Lymm man who in 2001 joined the Royal Air Force and has travelled all over the world within my job; it is always nice to see what is happening throughout the community and to see that Lymm is still going strong. Despite being based at RAF Wittering near Peterborough, it is very hard to come home with my family.

I have travelled around the world and whether it be in The Falkland Islands or Afghanistan, I always try and read the magazine.

Thank you for all the hard work and I look forward to keeping in touch with the Lymm Life Magazine

Brave Olly survives dog attack

A TINY puppy was left fighting for his life after being attacked by two large fighting dogs at Lymm Dam.

Brave little Olly, an eight-month-old Shih Tzu was blinded in one eye and suffered other serious injuries in the incident.

He was rushed to a vets at Latchford by his owners, the Savage family - Phil, Jane, Amy and Megan - and was stabilised and made comfortable by staff.

After almost two hours he was deemed fit enough to make the journey to a specialist eye clinic at St Helens where he underwent an immediate operation.

Sadly he lost one eye - but otherwise made a good recovery.

Phil said: "The vets were totally amazing and without doubt saved his life."

The incident took place on Friday,

August 24 at about 7pm, just a few meters from the St Mary's car park entrance to the Dam.

The fight to save Olly went on until midnight.

Phil described the attack.

"Two large dogs approached from the opposite direction. We think they were Japanese Akitas. Both were on a lead, but given the fighting nature of this breed they should have been muzzled.

"The owner told us that one of the dogs had a known bad temperament - but by then the attack had taken place.

"Due to the severity of the attack and in an effort to save Olly's life, we didn't hang around to swap details.

"Miraculously, despite the late hour, the vets was still open.

"It was around midnight we received the news that Olly had lost one of his eyes but that he was a brave and strong puppy who had come through the worst and would most likely make it.

"The care Olly received from both veterinary practices was absolutely wonderful and we can't thank them enough for all they did.

"We reported the incident to the police. As far as we know these dogs have not been seen around the Dam before and don't appear to be known in the area.

"If anyone knows anything about them, we would like them to tell the police.

"We wanted to tell Olly's story as a tribute to his bravery and so people can be on their guard when walking with dogs or children in this area.

"We hope this will raise awareness and help prevent any more incidents like this, or even more serious, from happening."

A police spokeswoman said: "We received a report of this incident at about 10.10pm. The owner of the injured dog was offered advice and advised that if he sees the owner of the two dogs again he should exchange pet insurance details."

Obituaries

Bernard Howarth

THE funeral has taken place of Bernard Howarth, well-known garage proprietor and former licensee of The Star Inn, Lymm.

Bernard, aged 72, had run Thelwall Motors for the past 40 years. He had served in the 13/18th Hussars, spending two years in Malaya. He was also an active member of the Freemasons.

Over the last few years he had suffered health problems but remained a workaholic, never complaining about the obvious pain he was in, with both kidney and heart failure.

However, he remained positive and was grateful to both Liverpool and Warrington hospitals, and the doctors and nurses at Stockton Heath Medical Centre and the intravenous therapy district nurses.

Even at the end he wanted to help other people by asking people not to send flowers but to make donations to Diabetes UK.

Bernard leaves his wife, Julia, daughter Sam, sons Robin and David, granddaughter Natalie and son-in-law Andy and daughter-in-law Danielle.

The funeral service and internment were at St Wilfrid's Church, Grappenhall, the Rev Margaret Jones officiating, and funeral arrangements were by John Burrows and Sons, of Lymm.

Stan Dobson

THE funeral has taken place of Mr Stan Dobson, aged 71, of Barsbank Lane, Lymm, who died in Warrington Hospital on August 8 after a long fight with leukaemia. The funeral service was at St Winefred's Catholic Church, Lymm, followed by committal at Dunham Crematorium.

Mr Dobson had lived in Lymm for 47 years and left a wife, Nicole, two sons, Edward and Richard and four grandsons.

A former playing member of Lymm Rugby Club, he worked as group personnel manager for AAH Pharmaceutical. Funeral arrangements were by John Burrows and Sons of Lymm.

'Lymm needs more homes and jobs'

LYMM is a key service area with its own hinterland and should meet its own housing and employment demands, according to developers who have lodged objections to the borough council's Local Plan Core Strategy.

They have identified land south of Rushgreen Road, between Rushgreen and Oughtrington, as suitable for housing and land west of Cherry Lane, near to the M6, as suitable for a business park.

The objectors argue that there is insufficient land to meet the borough's housing needs and that land should be made available at Lymm to help meet this need. They believe Green Belt land adjoining the village should also be made available for housing. The Local Plan Core Strategy (LPCS) is the successor to the borough council's Unitary Development Plan.

It has been drawn up by the council and submitted to the Government who will appoint an independent inspector to assess it.

The borough council has suggested

10,500 new homes are needed across the borough over the next 15 years, mainly in the inner areas. But objectors are challenging this and putting forward a figure of about 17,000.

COTEBOOK Home's Jubilee Tea Party saw the official opening of their new Greenhouse.

Keen gardeners are pictured with Peter Thomason who cut the ribbon to declare it officially open.

Cotebrook is grateful to Peter for his guidance in the planning and construction of this project.

They say Lymm and other similar areas should be recognised as a separate housing market and provide sites for the extra homes.

At this stage in the LPCS process, the council does not respond to the objectors' views. But after the independent inspector has studied the plan and representations from developers and other objectors, he can make recommendations for changes. The council can then consider it further before finally adopting it as the development plan for the borough.

Support for the LPCS has generally come from parish councils, environment organisations and agencies. Overall, they welcome the strategy's continued protection of the borough's Green Belt, the countryside and constituent settlements.

If the LPCS is not adopted, the council's ability to influence how much new development is planned for, and where it should be, would be weakened.

Honorary degree for Lymm academic

LYMM resident Professor Peter Brandon has been awarded an honorary degree by the University of Salford.

Professor Brandon, who set up the university's world-leading School of the Built Environment and who received the OBE for services to the built environment in 2010, received his degree alongside hundreds of graduates.

Professor Brandon's doctorate celebrates his service to the academic community, specifically in the establishment of the built environment as a legitimate subject for academic study and research.

In 1990 he set up the internationally-renowned School of the Built Environment at Salford - then known as the Department of Surveying.

Head of the School of the Built Environment, Professor Mike Kagioglou said: "This recognition is but a small token for the tremendous contributions Peter has made to the built environment subject."

"Since the mid-80s he has been the driving force behind Salford's evolution from a very small unit to a world leading research-led school that is providing global leadership and has excelled in numerous research assessments."

Extra chairs needed for WI meeting

EXTRA chairs and refreshments were needed by Heatley WI when they were joined by Lymm Jubilee WI for the annual combined meeting.

Several members from Lymm WI also attended and there was lots of chatter, creating a real party feeling for the meeting.

Presidents Liz Wellbelove and

Shirley Dyson gave details of future events including the Rushbearing service at St Mary's Church.

Speaker John Hooley, who had been associated with the Royal Yacht Britannia, showed slides and told stories about the royal yachts. Members were pleased to see many photos of the Royal Family.

Coffee morning with a difference

A COFFEE morning with a difference will be held at Lymm Methodist Church, on Eagle Brow, on Friday, October 12 at 10am-1pm.

In addition to the usual teas and coffees, homemade cakes, book stall, raffle and tombola, there will also be an opportunity to enjoy a relaxing and therapeutic taster session of reflexology, or a shoulder massage, from a team of qualified therapists.

The 20-minute session will cost £6 - but it is advisable to book a time by calling 01925 752416.

All funds raised by the event will be given to Marie Curie Cancer Care.

LYMM Runners were well represented at the English Half Marathon held at Victoria Park in Warrington recently.

Eight runners from the club took part with times ranging from one hour 28 minutes to two hours 15 minutes.

The club was set up two years ago and is always open to new members of any ability.

"We're always happy to welcome new faces to our group, whether you've been inspired by the Olympics to get fitter, want to tackle your first race or just want to enjoy running with people," said club secretary Kathryn Howard.

Anyone interested can just turn up to a session.

The club meets outside the library at 7pm on Tuesdays and Thursdays, at 6pm on Wednesdays for the beginners' session and at 8am on Sundays.

Thirty years service honoured

A CELEBRATION was held at the United Reformed Church for Helen Hunter who has completed a magnificent 30 years as a Guider with 2nd Lymm Guides.

Helen started out as a brownie, and then became a guide. She went on to be a ranger, then a young leader and then an adult leader, all with the same guide company. In addition she went on to complete 10 years as a District Commissioner.

A 'catwalk' of guides wearing the type of uniforms Helen would have worn over the years had been organised and current guides were told of the type of things guides used to do 30 years ago.

All the guides came dressed in clothes from the 1970/80s, when Helen herself would have been a guide, and brought food typical of that era - angel delight, sausages on sticks, cheese and pineapple on sticks etc.

Helen has seen the Queen's Silver Jubilee, Golden Jubilee and now the Diamond Jubilee. She has also seen the Girl Guides' Diamond Jubilee in 1970; the group's 75th birthday, and of course their centenary year in 2010.

A speech was read by Caitlin Lynch who thanked Helen for her commitment to Guiding as a whole and 2nd Lymm Guides in particular, for her long and tireless hours of work and for setting a particularly high standard for others to follow.

Helen intends to continue with 2nd Lymm Guides and she was proud to ensure continuity by enrolling one of the 'old' guides, Amelia Sandbach, as an Adult Leader that same evening.

TailorMade for you...

Understand all your options and maintain control of your money.

Life-long Lymm resident Robert Shaw (pictured right) is one of the Directors of The TailorMade Group who specialise in mainstream and alternative investments predominantly within the (SIPP) Self Invested Personal Pension market.

Having spent nearly 20 years working in the financial services industry Robert (and his colleagues) have a clear message to us all: 'Understand all our options for, and maintain control of, our money... after-all when we adopt a pro-active attitude towards anything in life, we are usually satisfied with the results'

Can 'satisfaction' be a word that describes the way people generally feel about their investment performance and overall experience in the past? Well it's not something TailorMade's Clients were enthralled about, which is why they have turned to the company to assist with their investment choice and transparent management of their money.

Robert also urges us all to ensure 'we are aware of where our money is invested, the charges applied for management, fund performance in relation to expectations, where the proceeds go in the event of death, and whether we have a satisfactory degree of asset diversification'.

Why? 'Well, for far too long we have generally relied on the fund management industry, and it has only been in the last few years that the public have started to question this in relation to fund performance and charging structures applied to their pensions and investments.' Have they received value for money? 'Well not according to the numerous reports by the UK media and industry watchdogs who have highlighted many cases of extremely poor performance coupled with 'hidden' charging structures. The latter has even resulted in pensions minister Steve Webb calling on the industry 'to clean up its act' in relation to actual charges, which could be as high (in certain circumstances) as four times that published. Poor value is also witnessed when we come to take our retirement benefits, especially if we have purchased an annuity in the last few years. Back in the early nineties annuities were providing over £14,000 per annum in return for £100,000 invested, in today's world we are lucky to receive over £5,000 per annum, meaning we have to survive 20 years to receive our initial investment back! Poor value yet again, yet so many fall foul of this trap.'

'What I also struggle to answer, is why so many trust solely in the stock market to cater for their future livelihoods, having little understanding of the mechanics, nor the foresight to play such volatile performance to their advantage? My only suggestion is that generally we are not aware of our options, as those that do, tend to act, whilst maintaining control of their strategy'.

Village celebrates ancient festival

Town Crier, Peter Powell flanked by Mayor of Warrington Steve Wright and Mayoress Julie Wright

VILLAGERS turned back the clock to medieval times as they celebrated the annual Lymm Rushbearing Festival.

Organised by local barrister Chris Limb and supported by the parish council the festival originates from ancient times when carts of rushes made their way to the church for use as floor covering.

Bullrushes and garlands were paraded through the village as part of the festival.

Town Crier Peter Powell started proceedings where he was joined by members of Lymm Parish Council and other community groups.

Rushbearing symbolised a procedure of changing rushes used on the church floors just before harvest to symbolise a healthy crop.

At one time, Rushbearing Day was virtually a Bank Holiday in Lymm, with shops and offices closing.

We are the champions!

LYMM High School's Under 13 and Under 15 girls' handball teams made a name for themselves in the national schools finals - with the Under 13s being crowned national champions and the Under 15s coming fourth.

The finals were played at the Olympic training venue at Mayesbrook, Barking

It was a sensational result for the Under 13s who defeated Harris Academy 3-1 in a hard fought final.

Lymm's Ellie Fletcher scored first, with the team enjoying plenty of possession early on. But the Harris girls fought back to score just before half time.

Tension mounted in the second half, with both teams playing well.

But key defending from Molly Clark and Abby Smith kept Lymm in the game.

Then Ellie Fletcher scored a second goal to put Lymm ahead again.

Seven minutes from the end, goalkeeper Jess Impey made some outstanding saves and in the final minutes Ellie Fletcher completed her hat-trick to seal the victory.

The Under 15s faced a tough challenge, having only started the sport four months earlier and facing a team with at least two years' experience.

In the semi-finals they lost 1-0 in the last minute and then had to pick themselves up for a play-off for third and fourth places.

A hard fought game with Barking Abbey School ended all square and had to be settled with a penalty shoot out.

Goalkeeper Caitlin Wilson made some amazing saves and even after five penalties the two sides were still level. It took sudden death penalties to separate the two sides and Lymm ended up in fourth place.

Art and wellbeing boat is popular attraction

A popular new attraction for this year's Lymm Festival was Third Wave's Art and Wellbeing boat.

The colourful narrowboat, which has been compared to a Rubik's cube, moored close to the Youth and Community Centre and invited visitors aboard. Over 100 people accepted the invitation.

While some were simply curious to see what the boat looked and felt like inside, most were keen to paint a range of designs on wooden spoons, plant pots and paper plates, to take away with them.

Some followed the tradition of painting flowers, while others experimented with abstract designs, ladybirds, and faces. The weather inspired one artist to decorate a pot with grey storm clouds and bright blue raindrops.

Local artist Helena Edwards said, "We provided the paint and a little inspiration, but the best ideas come from the children. One spoon was even decorated to look like an elephant, with water pouring from its trunk."

Third Wave is a group of professionals and volunteers who work on community projects to promote physical, social and mental wellbeing.

A volunteer from the Department of Health was also on the boat to provide information on improving physical and mental health by, for instance, practising mindfulness, a kind of meditation particularly helpful for people suffering from stress and anxiety.

Rolawn appoint Beechwood Turf as new premier stockist

ROLAWN, the UK's largest turf grower and leading topsoil supplier have appointed Beechwood Turf as Premier Stockists for Warrington and the surrounding area.

Beechwood, owned and run by Adam Halford have just opened in new premises at Primrose Nursery on the A50 just off junction 20 of the M6.

Under the new agreement, Beechwood will stock the complete Rolawn range that includes turf, lawn seed and fertiliser, topsoil, compost and bark; along with Hallstone sustainable landscape products. In addition to collections, a complete delivery service for both trade and retail customers is also provided.

Jonathan Hill, Rolawn's Sales and Marketing Director commented: "Combining Rolawn quality products with Beechwood's excellent service from their superb new site will enable us to meet the needs of both trade and retail customers in the area. We are excited to be working with Adam and his team at Beechwood".

World's first plug-in hybrid SUV

MITSUBISHI are hailing their new Outlander PHEV as the world's first plug-in hybrid SUV.

It offers the best of three worlds - the environmental performance of an electric vehicle (EV), the cruising range of a conventional internal combustion engine (ICE) vehicle, and the on and off road performance of an SUV.

Using the plug-in hybrid EV system powertrain developed by Mitsubishi and derived from its line-up of all-electric models, the vehicle is due to be available some time next year.

The PHEV is, however, based on the Outlander, which made its debut in Russia in July and is being introduced in other European markets around now.

It uses electrical power stored in the drive battery by charging either at home, a charging station or when the system recovers energy when decelerating.

It aims to achieve more than 61km per litre and a cruising range in excess of 880 km, which is on a par with a conventional ICE-powered car.

Mike keeps title hopes alive

RACING driver Mike Fry from Lymm, driving a Lola T86/90 (33) is leading the Class B BIGprofile PINTO 2012 Championship and kept his title hopes alive when he came second in Class B at the BRSCC Race Meeting at Oulton Park recently.

Mike's time for the 15 lap race was 32:22.286 and average speed of 74.84. He is also lying 4th in the overall BIGprofile Pinto Championship only five points behind the Championship leader.

There were 31 starters in the race for BIGprofile Sports 2000 Duratec Championship and the race is split up into 4 classes.

Home extension refused

A RESIDENT of Warburton Close, Lymm has been refused permission to build side and rear extensions at his home, together with hard-surfacing to create additional parking space.

Borough planning chiefs turned down his application after hearing objections from a neighbour and Lymm Parish Council on the grounds of overlooking, loss of light and surface water run-off.

Planning officers had recommended the scheme be approved and said there was no perceived detrimental impact on neighbours, the character of the street or existing off-street parking provision.

Plastic bag reminder

LYMM resident Steve Walsh - a member of Low Carbon Lymm - has come up with a new scheme to reduce the number of plastic bags used by shoppers in the village.

He is championing an initiative to help people to remember to take bags with them when they go shopping.

Reminder stickers have been produced and can be collected from most traders in the village from Saturday, September 15.

Low Carbon Lymm (LCL) points out that most people have stacks of plastic bags at home - hidden under the sink, behind a door or in the boot of the car.

They cost traders money, they are left discarded around the Dam, the Dingle and Slitten Gorge and usually end up being landfilled.

LCL hopes the stickers will result in more people remembering to take bags with them for re-use when they go shopping.

They point out that some stores are now charging for plastic bags and that in Wales it is illegal for stores to give away free plastic bags.

Plastic Bag Free Lymm is just one of LCL's projects aimed at making Lymm a more sustainable community, saving money and reducing carbon emissions.

More information on the sticker scheme, or on LCL, can be obtained by emailing info@lowcarbonlymm.org.uk or visiting the website www.lowcarbonlymm.org.uk
