I OFTEN hear people complaining about the media reporting about negative news — well I'm afraid the vast majority of you can only blame yourselves!

Now with the new look www.warrington-worldwide.co.uk website we can see exactly which stories attract the most interest — and sadly the ones which contain headlines involving words like sex, rapist, murder, crash, robbery, killed, violence etc are the ones which get read the most!

Being a free publication it is not necessary to sell news but we still have a duty to report on what the public find interesting.

So next time you find yourself complaining about the media always reporting doom and gloom, take a hard look at yourself in the mirror and think about what makes you buy a newspaper, pick up a magazine or read a news website.

Here at warrington-worldwide and our sister publications in Lymm, Stockton Heath, Culcheth and Frodsham we have always concentrated on focusing on local community events and reporting positive news stories — which is something we will always continue to do, as we feel these areas are often overlooked or not given the coverage they deserve elsewhere.

But we will also continue to report on news, be it positive or negative on our daily newspaper website until the day comes when it no longer serves the public interest — although I fear that day will never come as the tabloids with the biggest scandal stories continue to be the big sellers.

God knows why society has become obsessed with so called celebrities and wanting to know who is sleeping with who.

Apparently publicist Max Clifford says that photographs of Angelina Jolie's new twins could fetch £10 million! The mind boggles — and to think half the world's starving and children are dying every day from malnutrition — yet someone who has more money than most will see in a life time, can now expect another windfall thanks to achieving something which is a daily event somewhere on the planet!

Hello and welcome to my monthly column . . .

Hypnotes

by Michael Mahoney

Dare To Be Different

DO you dare to be different, or do you remain in an unhealthy routine. Dare you be different by making changes others may mock you for? Dare you be different to embrace positive change and happiness, even though it may not always be easy to do so? Dare you be different to reach out for a dream, a wish or simply a long over due change? How many readers I wonder are stuck in routines which are unhappy, perhaps unproductive or even worse, damaging? Those who dare to be different often face ridicule; often having to swim against a tide of negative comment, feedback or hostility.

It's often true that individuals see changes they want to make, take the first few steps of making those changes and are then dissuaded from going further by negative comments, threats, and ridicule from those not wanting them to move on or better themselves. Even worse though, they are sabotaged by self limiting thoughts or feelings, when doubts set in, when what is worth having has to be worked hard for, or when sacrifices have to be made. It is then we have to remind ourselves to dare to be different. Dare to think positive and to move one. Dare to follow your dream, your wishes and hopes. It doesn't matter what people think, it is what people know that matter. History is full of people who have made difficult choices to follow their dreams, and to bring themselves and often, society a great reward. We may not be in the league where our actions and outcomes touch wider society, but we can make a difference to our lives and often to our families' lives if we dare to be different.

Regular readers will be aware of the power of thought, words and inner speak. If you don't know how to do something, or don't know what you want to do, to make things better for your self, don't be dissuaded from persevering just because you don't know how to do something. Simply change the thought and the feelings change. For example change: 'I can't drive' with 'I can't drive - yet! That one little word YET, has a great power to overcome negative thoughts and feelings. Try it on your self limiting thoughts and feel the difference.

When you recognise you need some support to make changes in your life, or to let go of some self limiting beliefs, or to deal with a phobia, or you simply want to talk something through, you are stepping into the realms of daring to be different. Recognising there is a need for change is the first step which brings about change. The next step of course is daring to do something different, to recognise that nothing changes if you continue to do the same thing. Do something different and the outcomes will be different.

The choices are so different. Do nothing and look back with regret sometime in the future or do something different and feel the difference. And of course if its to scary, you can always tell yourself, the time is not right - yet!

Celebrating 40 years of town twinning

Günter Scheib(right) with the Mayor and Mayoress and the signs he donated.

A NEW square in Warrington has been named Hilden Square to mark the 40th anniversary of the town's twinning with the German town.

A delegation from Hilden, led by the Bürgermeister Günter Scheib, visited Warrington to join in the celebrations.

The Bürgermeister, who donated signs written in German and English performed the official opening with Mayor Graham Welbourne outside the main entrance to the new Golden Square development.

Music was provided by Great Sankey High School Swing Band.

During the visit they also compared Warrington services with their own, visiting the town's CCTV monitoring system as well as attending the launch of Disability Awareness Day at Golden Square and the Party in the Park In Queens Gardens.

New appointments

Ted Fryer, Barclay's Business Manager

TWO new faces have joined the team of business managers at Barclays Warrington.

The business team at Barclays would like to give a very warm welcome to the two latest recruits Simon Gugniewicz, an experienced relationship manager, and Phil Wasley, the new financial planning manager.

Both join the existing established team of Ted Fryer, Stephen Ward and Gill Hillier, increasing the combined experience of the team substantially.

These new appointments form Barclay's strategy of recruiting and retain the very best customer focused employees within the branch network.

Simon is to develop his portfolio, specialising in attracting businesses that are unhappy with their present banking arrangements, or are looking for more from their bank.

Barclay's five point plan offers an important one-on-one relationship that allows their managers to build up knowledge and trust with each client.

The aim is for the customer to succeed, for if they do, Barclays do.

Phil has been appointed to meet customer's savings, investment, pension and protection requirements.

Each customer will receive a personally tailored financial solution.

Phil's view is that a balanced solution is needed – not to rely on fate as it will inevitably let you down.

Within their successful five point proposal, award winning products, (business account and commercial mortgage), business software solutions, Barclays offer a unique package for the local business community.

So whether you are looking to start up in business, wish to discuss what Barclays can offer to your existing business, are looking for commercial property, savings or protection, put Barclays on your things to do list, call Ted Fryer on 01925 782 130, or any member of the business team.

Marriage of two law firms

WARRINGTON'S two largest law firms celebrated spending their futures together at a glittering event."

Forshaws Solicitors LLP and Davies Ridgway Solicitors have joined together and can now rival leading firms in Manchester and Liverpool with their raft of expertise.

A total of 150 staff celebrated the launch of the new combined practice, which has been named Forshaws Davies Ridgway LLP, with champagne and canapés at Walton Hall, Warrington.

"It's fantastic to be celebrating the joining together of two of Warrington's biggest law firms. Walton Hall is actually a very appropriate venue because it's usually used for weddings and this is a marriage in a way," said Charles Agar, member at Forshaws

Davies Ridgway. "We're very excited about working together."

Forshaws Davies Ridgway has 18 members and will instantly become one of the top 20 largest law practices in the North West of England as well as one of the top 200 in the UK.

Senior member of the new firm John Spittle said he was privileged to be a part of the expanded business.

"The roots of these individual businesses can be traced back many hundreds of years. We are now on a different plateau and have much greater expertise across a broader spectrum of legal specialisms," he added.

Norman Banner, formerly senior member at Davies Ridgway and one of those instrumental in bringing the firms together said both had qualities that complimented the other's.

"Both businesses have individual strengths in different areas of law. Together we're a practice which will offer expertise across every legal field," he added.

Based in the heart of Warrington, and with branch offices in Frodsham and Stockton Heath, the new practice will continue to provide comprehensive and proactive services in the principal legal areas of commercial law, conveyancing, criminal law, family law, litigation and probate.

or local economy

The new streamlined organisation has cut down on administrative overheads and has focused on providing a greater level of local face-to-face support to help businesses thrive.

An estimated 12,000 businesses from across Warrington and Cheshire used the improved Business Link service last year.

PARTY IN THE PARK

A FREE "Party in the Park" proved to be a big hit in Warrington town centre. Crafts, dancing and costume making were the order of the day for people young and old as Queen's Gardens was transformed into a creative quarter. Visitors were given the chance to take part in special trails, learn new skills and enjoy a variety of performances.

Beer sponsors wanted

SPONSORS are being sought for Warrington Rotary Cub's popular annual charity beer festival to be held from October 16 to 18. Oktoberfest 12 will be held at the Parr Hall and, as usual, is expected to draw big crowds. Festival secretary Margaret Ingham said: "Over the last 11 years we have raised around £110,000 for charities, through the support of local companies." Sponsorship is £80 per barrel and sponsors are invited to a special preview on the Thursday afternoon to meet representatives of the charities supported and to sample the beers. They are also offered 10 complimentary tickets. The name of sponsors will be displayed on the barrel of beer and on promotional material. Further details are available from Margaret on 01925 265597.

School organises fun run

A WARRINGTON secondary school gave residents the chance to get fit and raise money for a charity of their choice at the same time.

Birchwood High School organised the run with local residents, students and staff taking part.

The run coincided with a visit from a South African school as part of a bi-annual commitment, which has seen the schools meet for the past four years.

All runners from the school raised money for a cricket tour in July when the secondary school from Groenburg, in South Africa, take on the Birchwood side in Warrington.

At the fun run there was music, dancers, a coffee bar and a guest appearance from Warrington Wolves mascot Wolfie.

Skin Rejuvenation - What Does It Mean For You?

'Rejuvenation' literally means 'to restore a youthful appearance' and at Vive Cosmetic Clinic we are committed to helping our clients achieve a younger and healthier look. Skin rejuvenation is especially important because in our society many people associate a clear complexion with good health and youth. An active outdoor lifestyle or busy professional schedule can damage the skin, causing premature ageing. At Vive we believe this does not have to be inevitable, and would like to explain some of the treatments available to help 'rejuvenate' both your skin and your quality of life.

The major cause of skin ageing is ultraviolet light, which causes pigmentation changes in the skin. This can contribute to many problems, such as sunspots, freckles, broken blood vessels, wrinkles, and thinning of the skin. However, each of these issues can be resolved with the correct treatment and proper skincare. At Vive Cosmetic Clinic our doctors are experts in both surgical and non-surgical treatments, and offer a range of the most popular and effective solutions available. We believe in providing personalised treatments plan tailored to our clients' needs, and delivered by highly qualified and responsible practitioners committed to delivering the best results.

One popular treatment offered by Vive is photorejuvenation. This is the use of intense pulsed light, applied to the skin using a state-of-the-art Palomar handpiece, to reduce the appearance of brown spots, freckles, broken blood vessels, spider veins and numerous other damages to the skin. It can also be used to improve skin tone and pore size, and to reduce redness, flushing, rosacea and mild acne. The heat of the pulsed light dissolves the cells which cause pigmentation in the skin giving a more luminous and youthful appearance. The treatment is safe and is suitable for all skin types, and for use on delicate areas of the body - we specialise in treating the face, but can also help with problems on the neck, hands, and chest. Both men and women have enjoyed the benefits of this revitalising treatment, which we offer as a series of between three and five treatments with approximately four weeks between sessions.

For those who wish to improve the quality and appearance of their skin, medical microdermabrasion may be the answer. Microdermabrasion is the process by which the top layer of skin is gently exfoliated to reveal a healthier new layer beneath. At Vive, we have a range of the latest in medical microdermabrasion technology in the Accelafuze machine. We use this tool to deliver a cool, soothing and painless treatment, which lasts approximately 30 minutes and can deliver a range of benefits. It uses a combination of exfoliation followed by a topical medical grade infusion selected for specifically your skin type. The Accelafuze can significantly improve the appearance of fine lines and wrinkles, sun damage, acne, blackheads, oily skin, dry skin and a range of other skin complaints. Microdermabrasion is suitable for both men and women, and can reveal and fresher and more confident outlook for people of all ages and skin types.

For those who wish to experience the absolute cutting-edge in skin-resurfacing technology, Vive is proud to offer the use of the StarLux 1540 laser to improve skin tone and texture. Unlike some treatments, StarLux resurfacing is non-ablative, meaning that the surface of the skin (epidermis) remains intact during the process, resulting in minimal reddening, tenderness and recovery time (usually less than 48 hours). The laser works by delivering focused heat deep into the dermis layer of the skin which stimulates the body's natural healing process, forming new tissue and resulting in glowing, rejuvenated skin. Though the laser uses heat to treat the skin, it includes a patented cooling system which limits discomfort during the treatment. Results are immediate and since it only affects a fraction of the skin at a time a series of treatments is recommended.

The signs of ageing affect us all, especially those with busy lives, but at Vive we can help you look and feel your best. We have a range of treatments to suit all budgets, and are happy to offer a consultation to find out about your cosmetic goals, and how we can help you to achieve them. We will never force or rush a decision from our clients, as we know that cosmetic treatments can be a big step for many people. We operate out of the Spire Cheshire Hospital in Stretton, a comfortable and discrete base for our high quality service. If you would like to know more, call our secretary Denise on 07521 747102 or visit our website www.viveaesthetics.co.uk.

Morley teams up with mental health charity

WARRINGTON based mental health charity Making Space has received a major boost with Warrington Wolves' skipper Adrian Morley agreeing to become a celebrity supporter of the charity.

Adrian has teamed up with actor Dean Sullivan best known as Jimmy Corkhill in Channel Four's Brookside, Lord Hoyle of Warrington and Professor Elizabeth Kuipers (Head of Clinical Psychology, The Institute of Psychiatry), who are both patrons of the organisation.

Outstanding

Adrian recovered from two serious early season injuries to finish 2007 as Great Britain's outstanding forward in the 3-0 series victory over New Zealand. After arriving as the Wolves' major signing for 2007, Morley fractured his eye socket on his Super League debut at Wigan and broke his cheekbone on his comeback in Round 6 against Hull KR.

However after recovering from the subsequent surgery he returned to form for both club and country, captaining Great Britain for the first time in the mid-season Test against France and leading the 'Northern Union' side in the Centenary Test against the 'All Golds' at the Halliwell Jones stadium.

Adrian will be visiting Lyne House shortly as his first engagement on behalf of Making Space.

Paint firm show support for Town

JOHNSTONE'S paints, proud sponsor of the Johnstone's Paint Trophy, have widened their goal posts to support local team Warrington Town FC.

Johnstone's have recently acquired Warrington's Penketh Paints on Buttermarket Street and to demonstrate their commitment to the town, Johnstone's paints are helping to paint a brighter future for Warrington Town with a generous donation of paint for the Unibond Division One North club.

Now Dave is being joined by a group of dedicated supporters who are rolling up their sleeves and giving the ground a fresh new look for the start of the new season.

Johnstone's paints have a proud tradition of community work in towns and cities across the country. The donation of paint to Warrington Town FC is yet another example of Johnstone's commitment to football at grass roots level.

The new Johnstone's Decorating Centre in Warrington will reopen for business in September. It is set to be bigger and better than ever before and will be stocked full of paints, a huge range of wallpapers and every other tool and accessory needed by the professional decorator and DIY user alike.

School's water-powered rocket

SCIENCE students from Penketh High School have blasted their way to success with an innovative water-powered rocket.

A team from the school won Daresbury Laboratory's Lift-Off Rocket Challenge at Chester Race Course.

They managed to send their water rocket, which was carrying a hen's egg, further than any of the other 25 competing schools, without the egg breaking.

Around 400 pupils took part in the challenge, which was divided into two events, one for seven to 11 year olds, and one for 11 to 16 year olds - known as the 'payload challenge', which Penketh won.

Learners were also able to take part in a robot making exercise and benefit from a talk from a UK space scientist.

Daresbury Laboratory's Lift-Off Rocket Challenge supports the Science and Technology Facilities Council's "Science in Society" programme, which aims to inform and engage people of all ages in science and technology.

Head of Science in Society at the laboratory, Tony Buckley, said: "The event aimed to show young people how the principles of science and physics they learn in the classroom can be applied in a fun way. It was great to see how much all the participants enjoyed the day."

Curtis is quick on draw for Cobras

WARRINGTON based author/illustrator Curtis Jobling, the designer behind Bob the Builder and the creator of new BBC show Frankenstein's Cat, has put his skills to use in support of his local Junior Rugby League Club.

Curtis has created 'Crossie Cobra' a mascot for two Junior Teams at Crossfields ARLFC.

The new mascot was unveiled at the Team's presentation night when Warrington Wolves star Kevin Penny presented trophies to the Team.

As well as a trophy each of the 20 man squad also received a montage of photographs from their season along with a copy of the new Team mascot designed by Curtis.

Greg Wainwright, Under 8s Head Coach said: "We're extremely grateful to Curtis for creating 'Crossie Cobra' for us and allowing us to use the image. The presentation night was great opportunity to celebrate the success and determination of the kids who have played this year. The kids and parents are also really grateful to Kevin Penny for taking time out to present the trophies."

Commenting on the new Mascot, Curtis said: "I was pleased to be able to create the Team's Mascot. My son plays junior rugby and it's great to see him enjoy the best team game in the world - I didn't think twice about helping Crossfields out with a character design that can be used by everyone associated with this terrific club."

The coolest radio station in town!

IT'S official - Radio Warrington is now the coolest radio station in town - thanks to a new air conditioned studio in their new base at Warrington Disability Partnership's Independent Centre for Living on Beaufort Street.

Volunteers from the radio station have teamed up with WDP to provide a truly independent community radio station, broadcasting from Warrington, for Warrington 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

Working round the clock in a busy studio was proving hot work for the dedicated team of presenters - but now local air conditioning company 4Seasons have come to the rescue, with a bespoke air conditioning system.

They have joined a list of local companies who are supporting the community initiative, including J&K Ross Safety Wear based on Kerfoot Street and the Crazy Hog Catering Company.

Station Director Steve Lewis, who has been a DJ in the town for nearly 10 years, said: "We are extremely grateful to 4Seasons air conditioning who have provided us with a top quality system which is ensuring we are the coolest radio station around!"

Being internet based the website also attracts listeners from all over the world and covers local topics, sports and events, featuring local people, supporting all local charities, providing full match commentary on all Warrington Wolves Home Games - not forgetting a massive selection of music. Radio Warrington plays all kinds of different music with something to suit everyone. warrington-worldwide editor Gary Skentelbery presents two classic rock shows on Friday and Saturday evenings from 10pm to midnight.

To find out more about Radio Warrington and how to tune in visit www.radiowarrington.co.uk where you will also be able to find links to 4Seasons air conditioning, J&K Ross and The Crazy Hog catering company.

MARKET'S*Classic Car Show*Warrington
Borough Council

A GREAT day was had by all recently as classic cars drove in to Warrington Market.

This was the first car show of its kind in the town centre and it attracted a lot of attention, with customers flocking to the market to see them.

The fascination for the cars supplied by North West Casual Classics spanned all ages, with the old reminiscing about when they owned one and the young learning about the illustrious motor history.

A 1958 double decker bus from the St Helens Bus Museum and a Jaguar Formula one car were the highlights on display. Customers were given an opportunity to get close to the Jaguar, which was very popular with just about everyone wanting to squeeze the tyres or just touch the bodywork.

There was also an opportunity for the market to go open air again, as some traders set up outside for the day to capture the atmosphere and show new shoppers what the market has to offer.

A short documentary was made on the day presented by television presenter Mark Olly, famous for his series called "Lost Treasures" now showing on Granada. The Market Car Show film is available to view on the television screens inside the market, or using the internet at www.warringtonmarket.co.uk. The market web site also has a gallery of photographs taken on the day.

Stephen Pickering, Market Manager pictured below with Mark Olly said, "This was a fantastic experience for young and old, the double decker bus caused a stir; bringing back memories for some and proved popular with young children who had never been on board an old fashioned bus before."

Cllr Bob Barr, Executive Board Member for planning, regeneration and housing said,

"We are working hard to put on scheduled events of interest throughout the year in the town centre. This show went down very well with shoppers, so much so that it is likely to become an annual event, growing in size each year.

"We are putting together an exciting series of promotions, which will be listed in a calendar for the town centre. These aim to attract new and regular shoppers to the area who will know what to look forward to. Events such as the car show, the continental market and the green market experience have all been successes and are in the plan for future years."

Coming Soon:
Warrington Farmers Market
Saturday 6th September

The very first event of its kind to take place in the Town Centre presented by Warrington Market.

Everyone at WDP would like to thank the Warrington residents for there continued support.

It was the culmination of a week of activities including nine workshop-style events involving children and young people, mental health, carers and employment.

An army of volunteers gave up a week of their lives to run the event supported by the Thorn Cross Young Offenders Institute, the Lions, Rotary and Sea Cadets.

One of the highlights of the event was the launch of the world's lightest wheelchair weighing just 6.3 kilogram by North West based Future Wheelchairs.

The main sponsor of the event was the Warrington-based North West Development Agency, supported by Warrington businesses, Warrington Borough Council and Warrington Primary Care Trust.

at the Village Hotel

THE Village Hotel, at Centre Park in Warrington, has always been one of the most prestigious dining out venues in the area, but since its recent refurbishment it has set an even higher standard.

Contemporary décor and subdued lighting gives the Verve Grill restaurant an attractive, relaxing ambience with tables arranged in such a way that each party – whether a couple or a larger group – can enjoy their meal and conversation undisturbed by other diners. The staff are friendly and helpful so everything is set fair for fine fare. Expectations are high!

We were certainly not disappointed in our meal. The soup of the day was tomatoes and roast red pepper and was delicious. The fish starter was salmon and, again, was first class.

For our main course we chose New York Sirloin Steak, with hand cut chips and mixed vegetables and grilled rump of lamb with creamed white beans and spinach. We really thought both were excellent – and cooked exactly as we had requested.

There was a wide range of other starters and main courses to choose from but, in particular, we should mention the innovative hot rock grills.

You in effect cook these yourselves, to your own liking, at the table on your own personal hot rock. You can try fillet steak, venison, ostrich steak, tuna mignon or fillet of salmon. It's very different and extremely enjoyable. If you have not tried it before we cannot recommend it too highly.

The Village offers a good range of desserts for those with hearty appetites and the meal is complemented by an excellent variety of fine wines.

Altogether an enjoyable evening out.

Payroll Giving Or Gift Aid?

AS the count-down to Christmas is under way, we make no apologies for revisiting the subject of giving to charity, and the tax benefits that can be gained by structuring your donation correctly.

If you are an employee, and if your employer operates Payroll Giving, then you can make regular donations to charity directly from your pay. The donation is deducted before Income Tax is calculated, which means that you get immediate tax relief on your donation at your highest rate. As an example, we will look at a donation of £10. This will be deducted from your pay and will be paid to your chosen charity by your employer on your behalf. However, you will save £2 tax if you are a basic rate taxpayer and £4 tax if you pay tax at the higher rate, meaning that the pay that you actually receive will only fall by £8 or £6 respectively.

You can make all of your donations to a single charity or you can split your donations between several. One further alternative that may be available is that you receive a charity "chequebook", enabling you to write cheques to any charity of your choice whenever you so wish.

If you do not wish to make regular donations, or your employer does not operate Payroll Giving, then the Gift Aid scheme is available. By completing a simple form, including your name and postcode, then any donation that you make will be increased in the charity's hands by the basic rate tax that you have suffered on that income. Additionally, there is a Government supplement of 3p for every £1 that you give up to April 2011.

You should not use Gift Aid if you do not pay tax as you will receive a bill for the amount of tax that the charity has reclaimed. If you pay tax at the higher rate then you can claim back the difference between the higher rate and basic rate of tax, and this is done by declaring the donation on your self assessment tax return if you complete one, or alternatively by contacting the tax office directly.

Gift Aid is useful for making one-off donations. It can also be used to pay annual membership fees to a charity, and even to pay an entrance fee to a stately home or wildlife sanctuary run by a charity such as the National Trust. You can even receive a small benefit from your donations subject to fairly stringent conditions regarding their value.

Gift Aid reduces your taxable income

David Watkinson and Margaret Black

for the year, and this may therefore affect the amount of age related Personal Allowance, age-related Married Couples Allowance, or Tax Credits that you can claim. It is therefore important that you keep a record of all donations that you make in each tax year under Gift Aid.

You should note that both of the above schemes provide full tax relief on your donations, but neither affects the amount of National Insurance that you pay.

Please note that these ideas are intended to inform rather than advise and you should always obtain professional advice before taking any action.
