Editor's Comment

I THINK it is fair to say the Olympic games have been a resounding success which have provided a massive lift to the whole country - helping lift the doom and gloom of the recession.

Nearly everywhere I have been the major talking point has been the Olympics and Team GB's fantastic medal haul, which has probably exceeded most expectations.

Hopefully our own sporting heroes Warrington Wolves can help continue the feel good factor for the people of Warrington with another Wembley final on the horizon and possibly even greater things in the end of season Grand Final showdown.

While admiring the GB Olympians, including a handful from our own town, I couldn't help but think of the great local talent we have at Warrington Wolves with the likes of young winger Chris Riley, (pictured in action on the front cover) now on the verge of his third Wembley final at the age of just 24 - many players go through their entire careers without gracing a show piece final, so to make three at such a young age is a fantastic achievement.

Of course with the amount of talent currently on offer at the Wolves Chris is not guaranteed a place at Wembley, although his recent form suggests he must have a reasonable chance barring injury.

But what is even more pleasing he is one of a new generation of players who are Warrington born and bred alongside the likes of Matty Blythe, Mike Cooper and 20-year-old half back Gareth O'Brien, who looks set to be a star of the future.

Here's hoping the Wolves can keep our spirits high and continue with a production line of local talent.

TailorMade for you...

TailorMade Alternative Investments was launched to cater for the growing demand for alternative investments to play an increasing part in investment and retirement planning strategies.

Due to the perceived lack of value for money (i.e. performance achieved in relation to charging structures) and the prospect of low interest rates for the foreseeable future, classic fund based pension and investments are fast becoming a thing of the PAST.

TailorMade Alternative Investments open doors to new investment opportunities providing you with DIRECT access to a DIVERSE portfolio of alternative investments, rather than through traditional fund based routes. This cuts out some of the associated costs and can help provide true diversification in a variety of asset classes, stabilising an investment portfolio in volatile times.

Within this ever changing economic landscape, both private and institutional investors strive to identify the best sectors and niches in which to invest their FUTURE.

Amongst the most popular are real estate, commercial property, commodities, land, farmland, renewable energy and fractional property ownership.

All the Alternative Investments in our current portfolio can be accessed using personal funds, or pension funds via a SIPP (Self Invested Personal Pension).

The choice is yours...

Do you have any preserved pension arrangements? • Would you like to decide where your pension fund is invested? • Would you like all your funds in one place? • Would you like the option to put your funds into a wider variety of Investments? • Would you like a more proactive service from your pension provider? • Have you been dissatisfied with your current pensions performance? • Are you concerned about having enough income when your time comes to retire?

If you answered yes to any of the above questions.

It's time to act...

Getting fit4fifty!

warrington-worldwide Editor Gary Skentelbery has embarked on a fit4fifty campaign while at the same time helping raise funds for two local good causes.

"A review of recent holiday snaps and with the scales starting to creak at nearly 18 stone and my half-century looming on the horizon, it inspired me to get "fit4fifty."

"Having previously been on a diet, which nearly killed me – quite literally, I decided it was time for some urgent action so I have enlisted the help of personal trainer."

"My first dieting experience in my early 30s left me in hospital with gallstones and an operation, which didn't quite work out, resulting in emergency surgery and accidentally overdosing on morphine! That diet involved cutting all fatty foods out of my diet – which effectively caused my gallbladder to pack in.

"A second diet in my 40s saw me shed a couple of stone but as soon as I ended it the weight, as it does for many people, piled back on."

Now with a proper diet plan recommended by Paul Mason from Cheshire Personal Training, which includes a 30 day detox, cutting out all processed foods, caffeine, chocolate, bread and alcohol, the weight has started to fall off.

Paul has more than 30 years experience in the health and fitness industry.

"To maintain the weight loss I now have a new fitness regime, which I can work around my busy schedule and a healthy diet 80 per cent of the time. If I stick to this I am told the weight will stay off – especially after re-booting my metabolism, which had become very sluggish," added Gary.

"As well as improving my health I also intend to improve the wealth of two local charities I am involved with, The Tim Parry Foundation4Peace, where I am a patron and the "Warrington Disability Partnership, where I am a trustee.

"By going public with my campaign it will help me retain focus and hopefully inspire others to get themselves back into shape.

For regular progress reports and on how to make donations to the charities visit <http://garyskent.blog.spot.co.uk/>

Teacher by day - singer by night

BY day, she's a school teacher and of an evening she tours venues across the North West with her own take on iconic vocalists from the past.

These days, Tanya Ellison is even busier - working on material for a debut album to be released by the independent record label Night Owl Records.

Tanya, from Gorse Covert, Warrington, teaches English and Music at Penketh High School - but away from the classroom she concentrates on live, acoustic sets and what she describes as "vintage inspired music."

She has been singing and recording professionally for more than 10 years in cabaret groups and with soul bands, on cruise ships and independently.

Two songs she has written have earned her thousands of hits on You Tube and Sound Cloud and produced plenty of positive feedback from the public.

Once in a blue moon

Some readers may be interested to know that 31 August 2012 has a blue moon (rarely blue in colour however) that is the second full moon in the month, the first being on the 2nd of August. There are several definitions of this event, but space limits detailed explanation, however the above reference relates to the modern definition. This event is not particularly rare, but enough importance has been given to it, to coin the phrase "Once in a blue moon" meaning every now and then, or rarely.

The phrase once in a blue moon is used quite often by people who come into my practice. It's not that I hold special sessions for astronomers however; it is simply that people make this statement, most usually when they are talking about their own needs not being met. Simply they are not receiving or obtaining what they want or need.

How often I ask, do they do what they want to do, once in a blue moon, they reply. How often do you use that phrase? How often do you allow your needs to be heard or met? So often people put others first, they sacrifice what they want for the sake of others, and that is a good thing to do, but not all the time.

We all have a right to live the life we want to live as long as we don't hurt other people doing it. We all deserve to exercise our right to learn how to do things differently, to change and adapt, and to feel more comfortable in ourselves, to experience self-development and growth. We should pursue these aims often, not rarely, like so many people do. We need to recognise that we have a right to live our lives in the best possible way we can.

The present economic difficulties are making life more difficult for most of us. We have more demands made upon us for our time, our skills and our knowledge. Demands from employers, customers and loved ones and socially too. We should learn to put ourselves first sometimes, and then expect to do it more frequently too. Looking after ourselves 'once in a blue moon' should not be acceptable.

If you find yourself using the phrase 'once in a blue moon', stop and ask yourself why. Don't you owe it to yourself and ultimately to those who are important to you, to look after yourself, to do what you want to do for your own development, and to make life a little easier for yourself; to become more comfortable in yourself, and acknowledge your talents and gifts?

If you don't know how to start to do this, or need some guidance in developing your needs and wants, then contact me and let us work together to make a plan and structure for your self-development. It can only help in the long term, and perhaps by the next blue moon you will be well on your path of change, and positive self-development.

By doing so you will feel more in charge of your life and future, and the phrase 'once in a blue moon' will then only be used.... 'once in a blue moon'!

When Folly Lane led to heaven!

IN 1960s Warrington, youngsters could get a bus from Horsemarket Street to the end of Kerfoot Street, where nearby Folly Lane gave access to heaven ... Dallam Engine Shed.

Dating from 1888 and capable of holding 40 locomotives, it had a 65ft diameter turntable and a coaling stage with a water tank above.

There was always a wide variety of steam locomotives there making it a veritable paradise for trainspotters who would watch, mesmerised from a distance, discussing their chances of successfully "bunking" the smoke hazed shed without attracting the attention of the dust-coated, hatted shedmaster.

This is one of the happy memories recalled in a new book, "Shed Side in South Lancashire and Cheshire" by one-time trainspotter Kenn Pearce, now resident in South Australia but once to be regularly found with notebook and pencil near engine sheds in Warrington, Widnes, Wigan and Northwich.

The book is full of wonderful photographs of the steam locomotives which were once to be seen amid the smoke and steam of Dallam Shed, Arpley sub-shed, Warrington Central and other trackside locations.

Although the 176-page book is largely aimed at railway enthusiasts, it is not all about grimy steam locomotives and the characters who worked on them. It also contains much of interest to anyone interested in the history of Warrington and other railway towns in Cheshire and South Lancashire.

It chronicles the last days of steam when the railways played an important role in building the prosperity of towns like Warrington. Most of all it is a nostalgic record of what Kenn now calls a "misspent youth."

But what could be "misspent" about golden summer evenings when a courteous request from a schoolboy could earn the reward of a spin up the shed yard in the cab of a grimy steam locomotive?

The book is published by The History Press at £14.99.

A caring service from an unlikely partnership!

WHEN Mike Jenkins and Anthony Wilkinson are not fitting stairlifts they are usually arguing – about football!

Fortunately, the disagreements are always good natured and don't get in the way of the successful business run by the unlikely partnership of Liverpool fan Anthony and Manchester United fan Mike.

Together they run AMW Lift and Mobility Services Ltd, with more than 14 years experience in the stairlift industry.

AMW is one of a handful of companies fully qualified on ALL makes and models of stairlift. They don't just know how to fit them - they know how to fix them if they go wrong.

They don't employ salesmen or high pressure sales techniques. They concentrate on providing a fast, friendly and professional service and can offer advice, installation and service on all makes of stairlift, including Acorn, Brooks, Bison, Meditek, Minivator, Stannah, Freelift, Bruno, Home Adapt and Thyssen.

Importantly, they understand the trauma people suffer when they find they need a stairlift.

Anthony's mother died tragically of cancer and Mike's mother suffers from MS.

Said Mike: "We know what people are going through because we have been through it ourselves."

Advances in technology mean stairlifts are now less expensive than most people realise - and with Mike and Anthony you get a friendly service, with some football banter, thrown in!

Ironman Mark completes his challenge

WARRINGTON businessman and committed charity fundraiser Mark Brocklehurst completed a gruelling triathlon course in an incredible 14 hours and 13 minutes despite an 11th hour crisis which threatened to leave him out of the running completely.

The 50 years old Managing Director of Warrington-based documents management experts the Sharples Group, who crossed the finishing line in 49th place in his age group, had only 24 hours earlier faced disaster when the frame of his racing bike literally fell apart.

The ultra-lightweight bike was crucial if he was to complete a challenging 112 mile cycle ride, a 2.4 miles swim and ending the event with a challenging 26.2 miles marathon run.

"After a pre-race check-up my engineer informed me that the carbon fibre frame of my bike was disintegrating before his very eyes," explained Mark.

"After declaring the bike a total write-off, he immediately closed his shop, drove down to the cycle factory in Derby and collected a replacement. That meant I could fulfil my promise to enter the race to raise badly needed funds for the Bolton Lads & Girls Club.

"This was my first IronMan triathlon and I have to admit that it was one of the most challenging events I have ever faced," added Mark. "The run was very difficult and very hot and we experienced some windy conditions during the bike ride. Thankfully I very quickly got used to my new bike and achieved my aim."

When Mark arrived home to his wife Tracy and eight year old son Tom, the family celebrated two achievements - Mark's IronMan Triathlon success and Tom's successful completion of the IronKids race, which was held the same weekend.

First Warrington CIPS Study Centre launched

Boulsworth Services Ltd (Bwl), an approved provider of training for purchasing professionals, has teamed up with Warrington Collegiate to launch the first CIPS (Chartered Institute of Purchasing & Supply) Study Centre in Warrington.

Located at the Winwick Road campus, the CIPS Study Centre offers students the opportunity to undertake study programmes approved by the Chartered Institute of Purchasing & Supply and progress to become a full member of the institute (MCIPS).

Bwl provide training and cost reduction services to the business community across the northwest and the M62 corridor, and have gone through a rigorous assessment process to secure the status as an approved CIPS provider. This ensures Bwl has the systems in place to ensure students are dealing with a quality provider determined to help students and their employers with professional development.

So why should a company, or an employee engaged in purchasing, consider CIPS training?

Mark Parker (pictured), Director of Bwl said: "Bought-in goods & services can account for over 50% of a companies' cost of sales, so Buyers have control of half of a companies' cost base. However, 90% of Buyers have no formal training. Therefore, it makes good commercial sense for a company to invest in training its' purchasing people in professional techniques because this will improve the profitability of the company in both the short and long term".

CIPS has 90,000 members in 120 countries, is a globally recognised qualification and over 50% of job advertisements for purchasing roles specify candidates need to be CIPS qualified. As a member of CIPS you are part of a network of professionally recognised and qualified people with access to advice, support and information. As an employer you can be sure that your staff will be professionally trained to address your cost base and help you achieve value for money and performance across the whole supply chain for the measurable benefit of your business.

The two Directors who deliver CIPS training also bring a wealth of industrial experience to the classroom, mixing the academic theory with practical examples of how purchasing techniques are deployed in the workplace. Dominic Lee, Director of Bwl said, "We are focused on developing Warrington as one of our core markets and have linked up with Warrington Collegiate to start delivering CIPS courses from August 2012. We are looking forward to assisting businesses in the Warrington area to develop the procurement skills of their people and making a positive impact on their bottom line".

The Study Centre offers different learning formats to fit most preferences:

- A weekly day-release schedule (1pm-8pm) - four days study to cover each of the five modules within each level

- A three-day intensive workshop for each of the five modules within each level - this normally runs Friday-Sunday

- We can also deliver in-company and inter-company programmes at client premises.

These options mean procurement personnel need to spend less time away from work and reduce travelling time and expenses to a minimum.

Mark Harris, Director of Higher Education at Warrington Collegiate said, "By providing CIPS training, this enhances our suite of professional courses to the business community, and further helps establish Warrington Collegiate as a one-stop-shop for local employers. CIPS training will improve both the skills of the employee and the profitability of the company, and is therefore added value training in every sense".

For more information on CIPS courses, dates and fees you can contact Mark Parker on 07810 528468 or email info@boulsworthservices.co.uk or markparker179@btinternet.com or shodge@warrington.ac.uk

Housing HQ gets the go-ahead

CONTROVERSIAL plans for a new flagship headquarters building for Warrington's Golden Gates Housing Trust have been given the green light by Town Hall planners

Members of the borough council's development management committee visited the site before giving the go-ahead.

They decided objections from English Heritage, nearby residents and from local councillor Steve Parish were not sufficient to block the proposals.

The development, on the overgrown site of the Bank Park Depot, off Kendrick Street, will mean the demolition of existing buildings, including the locally listed but derelict Crossfields Conservatory.

The most severe criticism of the scheme had come from English Heritage, who were critical of the design of the part two, part three, storey building proposed.

They suggested the application should be withdrawn "until such time as a scheme is produced which more clearly enhances the conservation area and the setting of the Town Hall."

But planning officers argued that development on the site would bring a derelict corner of Bank Park to life.

They point out that the conservatory building is derelict, with no glass remaining in it.

Nearby residents objected on the grounds that the land was originally gifted to the town as a park - including the depot area.

But officers pointed out that the building would occupy a site which is already not open to the public.

The park itself would remain in its entirety for the benefit of the public.

Cllr Parish also had reservations about the design of the building which, he described as "a fairly unremarkable modern office building."

The planning approval is subject to the housing trust contributing £50,000 towards the cost of sustainable transport improvements in the vicinity of the site.

13 YEARS

Dad brings home the bacon!

A WARRINGTON dad has "brought home the bacon" after embarking on a charity bike ride with his three sons in memory of his teenage daughter who died suddenly from epilepsy.

Kevin Farrell was given a heroes reception as he rode up the drive way of Warrington town hall with his three sons Tan, Alex and Seb after completing a marathoon 1,000 cycle ride from Copenhagen in Denmark to Warrington.

Together with their support team they received gold medals as they were greeted by the Mayor of Warrington Cllr Steve Wright, along with family and friends.

Memory

Entitled "Bringing Home the Bacon - Charity Cycle Ride for Epilepsy," they have raised more than £7,000 for Epilepsy Action in memory of 15 year-old Felicity who died from sudden unexpected epilepsy in 2008.

They set off from Tan's home in Copenhagen and covered the 1,000 miles over 14 days to Warrington.

Due to an unfortunate injury after coming off his bike Kevin only managed 500 of the 1,000 miles but cheered on his three sons as they rode through a total of six countries.

When they arrived back in the UK they actually cycled along part of the Olympic cycle route.

Kevin, who is a volunteer broadcaster with Radio Warrington in his spare time, said: "I would like to say a big thankyou for everyone who has so far given to our just giving account which at the moment stands at about £7000 which is far more than we had 12 months ago and again a big thank you to everyone involved, especially our support team."

Between 600 and 1000 families a year in the UK are affected by sudden death in epilepsy (www.sudep.org).

The cycling team arrived back in Warrington on the 4th anniversary of Felicity's death.

Donations can still be made on line at www.justgiving.com/bringinghome thebacon and more fund-raising is planned later in the year as they bid to reach £10,000.

The importance of making a will

by John Bullough

Approximately 70% of people fail to make a Will and this can cause severe complications.

If a person dies without making a Will the Beneficiaries of the Estate are determined by Intestacy Law. If you are married and leave an Estate worth more than £250,000, and you have children, your husband/wife inherits only the first £250k, plus personal chattels and the income only in half of what is left. The remaining half of it is divided equally between the children when they reach 18 or if they marry before then. The children also inherit the rest of the Estate when their surviving parent dies.

If you are married but have parents, brothers, sisters, nephews or nieces living, your surviving spouse inherits the first £450k plus personal chattels and half of the remainder. The rest goes to your surviving parents, otherwise to your brothers and sisters.

It is only if you are married and your Estate is less than £250k that your Spouse will inherit everything, or alternatively that you die without any children, parents, brothers, sisters, nephews or nieces living.

Common Law Spouses are not entitled to inherit anything under the Rules of Intestacy. Aside from this, no pre-arrangements have been made in order to limit the amount of Inheritance Tax owed. If assets exceeded the current nil rate band of £325k, everything above this limit will be subject to Inheritance Tax at 40%.

If you make a Will then an experienced firm of Solicitors would advise you and would almost certainly suggest that the full names and addresses of all Beneficiaries are included, so that the Executors of the Will will have no difficulty in tracing Beneficiaries.

If you die intestate and have lost touch with your family, and no surviving members of your family can be traced the Estate will pass to the Duchy of Lancaster i.e. The Government. You will have seen programmes on the television where estate researchers endeavour to trace the Beneficiaries of an Estate and will charge anything between 15/25% of the monies to which such Beneficiary is entitled if they are traced.

Widdows Mason is a firm of Solicitors experienced in the drafting of Wills and advice thereon, particularly with regard to planning for the purposes of Inheritance Tax and using up all available allowances.

Call 01942 673311 today to speak to a specialist and make an appointment. Home visits are available.

Students set to compete on international stage

TWO 'skills stars' from Warrington Collegiate have earned a place in Squad UK for an international skills competition - WorldSkills Leipzig, next July 2013.

Rianne Chester, 18 from Howley, has been selected for Beauty Therapy and 19 year old Ashley Terron, from Appleton, for Brickwork by the National Apprenticeship Service.

Rianne and Ashley have already won though in both regional and national competitions and have impressed the judges by the high standard of work they have produced, as well as their knowledge of their chosen skills area.

Ashley and Rianne were selected from among the UK's most talented apprentices, employees and learners after competing in a tough three-day selection event. They will now spend the next year preparing to take on the very best from across the world, undergoing a specialised training programme supported by a dedicated Training Manager for each skill.

Ashley, who has also been chosen to represent the UK at EuroSkills in Belgium in October says, "I'm over the moon. It is a dream come true to be able to represent the UK at something I love, with the chance to prove I have the ability and passion to be the best. To think that not long ago I was entering my first skillbuild regional final and now I am representing the UK at EuroSkills 2012."

Proud tutor Paul Gould said: "Ashley is a very talented young man. This next challenge will be tough, but I'm sure that with his drive and determination Ashley will shine and we look forward to hearing that he is going to Leipzig in 2013."

Rianne said, "I'm really excited. This is once in a life-time opportunity. I've had such great support from everyone at the college and at work. I'm practicing hard so that I can do myself and the college credit."

Tania Gray, Lecturer in Beauty Therapy, adds, "Rianne has talent and poise as well as being an outstanding student. It's an amazing experience for such a young competitor and I have asked Rianne to come into college to do a master class for the Beauty Therapy students to share her expertise and knowledge for the students training for this year's competition."

WorldSkills is the biggest international skills competition in the world. Held every two years in one of its 61 member countries/regions, the competition sees around 1000 young people aged 18 - 23 from across the world come together to compete for medals in more than 40 different skills including Electrical Installation, Mobile Robotics, Web Design, Cooking and Landscape Gardening.

Ashley and Rianne have one final hurdle. They will compete for a coveted place in Team UK at the selection event which will be held in March 2013. If selected they will carry on training intensively with Team UK before heading to WorldSkills Leipzig, which takes place next July.

Bus company help Rosie win gold!

LOCAL bus company Network Warrington has supported the under 18 Great Britain Dragon Boat racing team, by providing kit sponsorship.

Bus driver Martin Edwards, has a particular reason to feel proud, as his daughter, Rosie, is the sole female member of the team and in the recent European Championships, she picked up a staggering 4 gold medals and one silver medal.

Managing Director, David Squire explained, "We are delighted for Martin, Rosie and the family, it is great to see a young person so committed to their sport and doing really well in the European Championships".

Students celebrate BTEC success

STUDENTS celebrated in style when they received their BTEC results at Warrington's Priestley College as many achieved 100 per cent pass rates across a wide range of subjects.

"This is the first time students on the full two-year BTEC Level 3 Extended Diploma programme have been able to receive the Distinction Star grade and our students and teachers have really stepped up to the mark," said Deputy Principal Matthew Grant.

"These are a fantastic set of results and they underline just why we continue to be the area's leading provider for both BTEC and A Level qualifications."

Health and Education saw 60% of Level 3 Early Year Diploma students predicted to achieve the highest grade of D. Of these learners 40% have achieved a distinction in every unit. Health and Social Care Level 2 students have been equally successful with over 90% achieving above their predicted grades.

In Performing Arts, 79% of the cohort achieved a triple distinction or higher in the Extended Diploma. BTEC Production Arts students celebrated 50% of the class achieving at least a D*D grade.

The BTEC Level 3 Diploma in Music achieved 100% pass rate at Level 3 with seven out of 12 students achieving DD - D*D*D* grades.

In ICT 16 D* were achieved by 26 students on the Level 3 Extended Diploma programme.

Level 3 of the Extended Diploma in Art and Design saw 38 out of 40 students achieve high grades, with seven achieving the maximum D*D*D*. In Level 3 Extended Diploma in Graphic Design 15 out of 15 students achieved High Grades with four students achieving the maximum D*D*D* grade. There was further success at Level 2 and on the Level 3/4 Foundation Diploma in Art and Design.

In Sport all three of the BTEC pathways (Exercise Science, Sports Development and Performance and Excellence) achieved a 100% pass rate with 17 learners achieving top marks of D*. In the Sports Performance and Excellence and Exercise Science BTECs 80% of students achieved distinction grades overall with 14 students achieving the maximum grade of D*D*D*. Ten of those students earned a distinction in every unit.

A 100% pass rate was also achieved on the Level 3 Diploma and Extended Diploma Public Services course as well as Level 2 Public Services with 13 students on Level 3 achieving distinction grades.

On results day the students enjoyed refreshments and left messages in a video booth about the highlights of their course.

Vocational Coordinator Rachel Williamson said: "The focus for the Results Day was on celebrating their achievements because they have worked so hard and done so well."

Our Flagship Office Building

This is an exciting opportunity to move into one of the nicest offices available in the Warrington Area. This 4,100 ft<sup>2</sup> property is ideal as a company headquarters; it has the image, the practical design, it's in a location that is easy to access via public transport, it is in an extremely secure location and is located on a well maintained Business Park that is a short walk from the amenities available in the thriving village of Culcheth.

Viewing is essential. This property was originally renovated by the Business Park with a view to having it as an Estate Office to showcase the high standard of offices they can produce, but demand for the office building meant that they relocated elsewhere on the Business Park and since then this building has been fully let.

The current tenant is looking to vacate the property as the size no longer suits their requirements so the Business Park is now pleased to put the Barns back on the market so that a new company will be able to call it their home.

Honours end even as Town honour Wembley legends

HONOURS ended even as Warrington Town and Crewe United shared the Styles and Co sponsored Peace Cup for the first time, following a 0-0 draw at Cantilever Park after a weekend which included honouring the club's Wembley squad of 1987.

The match followed on from a special civic reception at Warrington Town hall as the Irish visitors teamed up with members of Warrington's Wembley squad, to mark the 25th anniversary of the historic FA Vase final with St Helens Town - while at the same time kick starting the build up to the 20th anniversary of the Warrington bombing in March 1993, which claimed the lives of 12-year-old Tim Parry and three-year-old Jonathan Ball.

Special guests at the event included Tim's parents Colin and Wendy Parry who helped inspire the Warrington Peace Centre.

Meanwhile Colin was joined by former Everton and England legend Peter Reid at the Peace Cup game as Town unveiled their brand new 2012-13 kit and handed a debut to Peter Dogan, their major pre-season signing from National Conference side Barrow.

Although Warrington dominated the game they could not find a way through the resolute Crewe defence meaning that the trophy will be shared by the clubs for the next twelve months before Town return to Lisburn in summer of 2013.

As it was the first time Crewe had managed to avoid defeat in the history of the competition Warrington decided to allow the cup to travel back to Ireland, with the aim of regaining it next year!

Motoring

For when a car won't do!

GENERAL Motors, who earlier this year were making the bold claim that the Vauxhall Ampera was the first electric car for everyday use, have now come up with a concept vehicle for places where a car can't be used at all.

The Vauxhall/Opel RAD e is described as a future vision of environmentally-friendly urban mobility.

GM say the RAD e takes many of its design cues from the Ampera and is a response to the increasing role e-bikes are predicted to play in future integrated urban transport systems.

It is the first e-bike to be designed around automotive manufacturing mass production methods. Instead of exotic light-weight materials, its designers opted for a hollow pressed-steel frame, which is light, strong, flexible and easy to make.

Powering the "pedelec" propulsion system is a state-of-the-art 250 watt electric motor and lithium-ion battery. The battery can be fully charged in just two-and-a-half hours, and the bike can be transported on a specially adapted FlexFix carrier that allows it to be charged while it's on the move.

Delivering at least 40Nm of instant torque, the RAD e feels agile and responsive. The motor gives the rider support when pedalling, but will provide between 40-90 miles of pure electrical drive if required, depending on terrain and based on a 20mph average speed.

It has a user-friendly, smartphone-based control unit which unlocks the engine and provides real-time data on range, speed and exact location.

What it doesn't cater, for of course, is summers like the one we have just endured!

Trust Central for your local choice in car and van hire

Contract hire explained by Central Self Drive – Confidence in contract hire

Contract hire is essentially the rental of a car or van at a heavily discounted price based on a long term lease (usually from 3 to 5 years), prices will vary depending vehicle type/spec, and service and maintenance levels required & anticipated annual mileage.

3+ 35

- The 3 in this case means 3 monthly payments upfront (a standard initial payment required throughout the vehicle leasing industry when dealing with contract hire)
- The 35 means the monthly payments thereafter

10k P/A

- This simply means for each year you have the vehicle on lease you are permitted to do 10000miles in the lease vehicles so assuming you took the vehicles for 3 years at the end of the contract you would have an allowance of 30000 miles per year should you go over this limit then you can expect to pay somewhere between 5-15p per mile on any excess miles (the average person does 13000 miles per year and in our experience the average business customer does 24000 to 50000)

Non maint

A large number of our customers turn to contract hire as they feel they have a tighter budget control over the running costs of the vehicle and know exactly what the vehicle will cost them each month without being hit with any unexpected mechanically bill. Non maint is referring to the maintenance of the vehicle you will have a choice as to whether you would like to include service and maintenance or not, if you opt for no service and maintenance you will be liable for the servicing and MOT of the vehicle in addition to any further unexpected costs that the manufacturer warranty may not cover. Central Self Drive offer both these options, most of our customers opt to have service and maintenance factored into their lease agreement.

Central Contract Hire offers the most reliable and cost effective alternative to owning and maintaining your own vehicle or fleet.

Benefits include:

- A management contract hire that is tailor-made to your needs
- The efficiency of one fixed monthly payment, 100% predictable. Giving total budgetary control.
- Avoid the large initial outlay and simply return the vehicle at the end of the contract
- Freedom from risks of depreciation, resale values and ongoing maintenance
- Dedicated support from experienced and friendly staff
- Free 24hr breakdown cover

Responsibilities of the company director

Many people, especially spouses, agree to be a director of a company without asking any questions of their roles or responsibilities. There are many reasons why an individual running a small business decides to operate through a corporate structure. There are as many reasons why that individual asks another person to act as director. In the vast majority of instances this does not create any problems for the company or for either individual. However, being a director does carry certain responsibilities, and these should always be considered before the post is accepted.

Foremost, the duties of a director are to the company and not to the other directors, either in their capacity as director or in any personal capacity. However, many directors still look upon the company as being an extension of their own or their spouse's self employment. This will only be a problem, of course, if there is a divergence between the interests of the directors and those of the company.

Setting up a company is now a cheap and easy process. However, there are governance laws affecting the relationship between the director, the company, and other parties such as lenders and creditors that need to be understood.

A board is made up of two or more directors. Each director must, however, always be aware that errors of judgement are the responsibility of all board members rather than just an individual. This is similar to a "quasi-partnership" and you can therefore be held responsible for errors made by other board members.

Before accepting a directorship you need to be comfortable in how the company has been and will be run, and in particular you need to ensure that you have confidence in the board and how it operates. You also need to be clear as to what your particular role will be and how the company and the board will make 'best use' of your skills in running the company.

Finally, if a company grows beyond the stage of being a family business, and it becomes clear that additional directors are needed to share the workload and responsibility of running the company, then it will be essential create a formal corporate governance framework. This will not only protect the individual directors, but also add value to the business. Companies that are run as extensions of families and, therefore, family problems can see their value to prospective purchasers dramatically reduced.

WatkinsonBlack are pleased to advise on these and other matters. They have considerable experience in these and other matters, including providing a very cost-effective payroll bureau service. If you want to arrange a no-obligation initial meeting on any taxation or accounting matter then please contact us. Please note that these ideas are intended to inform rather than advise and you should always obtain professional advice before taking any action.

Stadium naming rights add up for Abacus

WARRINGTON Town's promotion push has received a major boost from local law firm Abacus Solicitors who have taken on the stadium naming rights for at least the next two years.

From the start of the forthcoming season Cantilever Park will become the Abacus Solicitors Community Stadium.

Managing partner Geoff Underhill saw the opportunity as a great way of promoting the expansion of his firm with well known local solicitor Paul Ireland joining the team to head up a new family department.

To celebrate the news they were joined by Take That star Jason Orange who became a "yellow" by signing one of the club's new shirts.

As well as looking after family law, Abacus also provides a full range of services including residential property, personal injury and civil and commercial litigation. They are also specialists in the sports and entertainment industry.

Paul, who has worked as a solicitor in Warrington for more than 20 years said: "We are extremely proud to be supporting our local football club and hopefully helping them on the road to promotion."

"We see this as a great opportunity to integrate in to the local community." To contact Paul or the team at Abacus call Tel: 01925 210999 or visit the website www.abacus-law.co.uk

New link with Gulliver's

WARRINGTON Town Football Club have linked up with Warrington's leading theme park, Gulliver's World.

For the new season, Warrington Town are inviting local junior clubs to Cantilever Park to take part in a pre-match curtain raiser branded as the Gulliver's Game Day. Children will play on the main pitch, take part in a half time penalty shoot out, meet the players, receive a match day gift and a free ticket to Gulliver's theme park.

Gulliver's have also agreed to sponsor Warrington Town's Junior section, focusing on the under 7's age group consisting of 25 children who have been presented with a brand new home and away kit.

Gulliver's World representatives Sharon Blake and Ian Gardner were on hand to present the new kits to the under 7's squad and Community Development Officer James Standing.

James said: "It's fantastic for Gulliver's to come on board with us and share our community vision by working with local children and interacting with them through football."

Gulliver's Operations director Ian Gardner said: "It has been great to see the kids in their new kits and to see them playing on the main pitch. The relationship with Warrington Town FC will grow stronger over the year and we want to support them in the community work they are doing along with interacting with the junior teams they have."

James added "We already have United Utilities as our community partner and with Gulliver's coming on board to link in with the junior section and our matchday curtain raisers, it extends our community links further."

Carpe Diem create Olympic legacy

DIGITAL agency Carpe Diem have worked with Big Society Works to develop a Legacy Pledge website, designed to encourage people to do something different in recognition of the Olympic Games.

Big Society turned to locally based Carpe Diem for design and development of the website, which extends to Social Media.

Carpe Diem has also developed branding, an advertising campaign, promotional materials to support the Legacy Pledge to encourage people to make a positive pledge to try something new, inspired by the pledge made by Lord Coe to get two million people to take up physical activity as a legacy of the Games.

The campaign doesn't only focus on sport. At www.legacypledge.org, people can make pledges of any kind, from community projects to simple activities that can be done at home. They can upload their pledge by video, make progress reports online, connect with friends who have also made pledges and be directed toward businesses who offer products and services related to the pledge.

Any profits made by the enterprise will be reinvested in community and sports development projects.

Legacy Pledge is the brainchild of Anne Ibrahim, a former director of Sport England who is now the executive director of social business Big Society Works.

Explaining Legacy Pledge she said: "We are very excited about Legacy Pledge which is about getting people to take action individual and collectively. It is very infectious and the interactive website allows us to connect those making pledges with local businesses and providers of services, who can help to accomplish the pledges made."

Bill Carr, managing director of Carpe Diem said: "This is a scheme we are proud to be involved with and it is brought us closer to the games. Every member of the Carpe Diem team will be making a pledge and uploading it to the site."
